Article 2.4 – Study advice

1. According to the Study Check Regulations (Regeling Studiekeuzecheck), a student, as defined in Article 7.31b WHW, who has enrolled for the first time in the propaedeutic phase of a Bachelor's degree programme is entitled to a digital check of his or her degree programme choice, and as a corollary, to a degree programme recommendation. If the outcome of the digital check is not positive, the student is invited for a degree programme choice interview. The recommendation is then based on the outcome of the digital check and the interview. If the student does not respond to the invitation for an interview, then the degree programme recommendation is based only on the outcome of the digital check.
2. The study choice advice is not binding.
3. The Study Check Regulation does not apply to students who want to enrol on the basis of a degree certificate from abroad.

Section 3 – Aim of the programme

Article 3.1 – Competencies and learning outcomes

The content and structure of the curriculum of the Bachelor's programmes have the aim of realising competencies. These competencies are listed in the programme-specific part of these Regulations. Along with each competency, the intended competency level at the end of the Bachelor's programme is described by means of learning outcomes.

Article 3.2 – Participation in education

1. During the indicated registration period, students must register for all courses in which they wish to participate.
2. No later than one week before a course begins, a student handbook for that course is available on Blackboard.
3. Students who are enrolled in a course must comply with the instructions and deadlines that are published in the student handbook for that course.
4. The student handbook specifies the preparation for and active participation in tutorials that is compulsory for the course and the sanctions that apply in case of non-compliance.

Article 3.3 – Sequence of education and examinations

Students who have not yet passed the final propaedeutic examination, but have received positive or suspended study advice as referred to in Section 4, are permitted to participate in post-propaedeutic education and take the corresponding interim examinations. In the programme-specific part of these regulations, restrictions for participation in specific courses may be formulated.

Article 3.4 – Referral in the post-propaedeutic phase

At the end of their first year of enrolment, students in the English-taught propaedeutic phase of the degree programmes in Business Administration and Economics & Business Economics are given a referral as specified in Article 7.9 of the Act. The criteria on which these decisions are based are listed in the programme-specific part of the regulations.

Article 3.5 – Evaluation of education

In accordance with the quality assurance system of the institution, as described in the Radboud University Handbook of Education Quality Assurance, the Dean ensures that the education of the degree programmes is systematically evaluated.

Section 4 – Binding Study Advice

Article 4.1 – Study advice, first year

1. At the end of their first year of enrolment in the propaedeutic phase of the Bachelor's degree programme, and no later than 31 July, students receive advice about continuing their study. This advice is given by the first-year study advice committee (on behalf of the Dean), as referred to in article 7.8b of the Act.
2. Students who have earned at least 42 ECs during the propaedeutic phase receive positive advice.
3. When determining whether the required credits referred to in the above clause have been earned, credits allocated for exemptions are not included. When granting the exemptions, the Examining Board can decide otherwise or can impose substitute or supplementary requirements.
4. Students who do not comply with the provision in clause 2 above receive negative study advice. That negative advice is binding.
5. The first-year study advice committee will inform the student concerned about the intended negative advice.
6. Before the negative study advice becomes definitive, the student concerned is given an opportunity for a hearing by the above committee.
7. Students can appeal against binding negative advice within six weeks to the Examinations Appeals Board. The appeal has no suspensive effect; students can continue their study only when the binding negative advice is reversed.
8. For the dual studies Law and Management and Law and Economics, which are acknowledged in the Education and Examination Regulations of the Faculty, the number of ECs earned in the study in which the student first enrolls is decisive when determining the number of ECs earned during the propaedeutic phase. Students in the dual studies Law and Management and Law and Economics therefore receive study advice from the Faculty of Law, and not from the Nijmegen School of Management.
9. If students are enrolled in more than one degree programme during their first year, then they must satisfy the standard for first-year study advice for both programmes. However, if they do not satisfy the standards for one of these programmes, then the first-year study advice committee can suspend the negative advice for that programme. In that case, students must have earned all 60 ECs of the propedeuse of that programme before the end of the second year of study, figured from the date of enrolment in the programme concerned. To be eligible for such suspended advice, students must contact their study advisor in a timely fashion.
10. Until 1 March of their first year of enrolment, students may transfer to one of the other degree programmes of the Faculty, except the English-taught propaedeutic phases of the degree programmes in Business Administration and Economics and Business Economics. Transfer students receive the study advice for the programme into which they transfer at the end of the second year of study (figured from the date of enrolment in the first programme). In that case, students must have earned all 60 ECs of the propaedeutic phase. Students who do not comply with this condition receive negative study advice, which is binding.
11. Students who de-enrol before 1 March from a programme and do not enrol (or are not already enrolled) in a different programme of the Faculty will not receive the study advice at the end of the first year of study.
12. If the students, as referred to in article 4.1.11, re-enrol for the same study as in the previous academic year, they receive the binding study advice at the end of that second year. In that case, students must have earned all 60 ECs of the propaedeutic phase. Students who do not comply with this condition receive negative study advice, which is binding.
13. Students who enrol in a degree programme of the Faculty after 31 January will receive the study advice at the end of the second year of enrolment. In that case, students must have earned all 60 ECs of the propaedeutic phase. Students who do not comply with this condition receive negative study advice, which is binding.
14. The binding negative advice as referred to in clauses 4, 9, 10, 12 and 13 can be waived if there are personal circumstances as referred to in Article 4.3 or the circumstances referred to in Article 4.5.
15. Within six weeks after they have received binding negative study advice, first-year students can make an appeal to the Examination Appeals Board.

Article 4.2 – Provisional study advice

1. After the first semester (before 1 March), the first-year study advice committee gives students their provisional study advice based on their registered results to that point.
2. The provisional study advice is a warning for students who have made insufficient progress. These students are urgently advised to make an appointment with the study advisor.

Article 4.3 – Personal circumstances

1. As part of its decision on the binding negative advice, the first-year study advice committee takes into account the personal circumstances as referred to in Article 2.1¹ of the Uitvoeringsbesluit WHW, if these circumstances have been reported in a timely fashion by, or on behalf, of the student concerned to the study advisor or other authorised person. The student can be requested to justify the appeal to personal circumstances or to make a plausible case for this appeal.
2. If binding negative study advice is not issued based on the provisions in the first clause, then at the end of the second year of enrolment the student concerned will again receive study advice as referred to in Article 4.1. In that case, students must have earned all 60 ECs of the propaedeutic phase. Students who do not satisfy this requirement will receive binding negative advice, unless personal circumstances again give cause to deviate from this provision.

Article 4.4 – Duration of the binding negative advice

1. Students who have received binding negative advice cannot enrol in the corresponding Bachelor's programme for a period of three years.
2. If a student, following the period referred to in clause 1, again enrolls in the Bachelor's degree programme, for the purposes of this Section this is considered to be an initial enrolment, and the relevant provisions shall apply.

Article 4.5 – No binding negative advice or postponed decision

1. In exceptional cases, the Dean, after being informed that the first-year study advice committee has decided on negative study advice, can decide to make this advice nonbinding, temporarily or otherwise.
2. If the negative study advice is nonbinding as referred to in clause 1 above, the first-year study advice committee will again decide on this matter before the end of the second year of study as referred to in Article 4.1 if at that time not all 60 ECs in the propaedeutic phase have been earned.

Section 5 – Taking interim examinations

Article 5.1 – Admission to interim examinations; location and frequency of interim examinations

1. The admission to the written or oral interim examination can be limited to students who have met the relevant requirements concerning attendance and the submission of completed papers, in all forms.
2. Any conditions for admission to the written or oral interim examination will be announced before the course begins via Blackboard.
3. Two opportunities to take interim examinations for courses will be provided during each academic year. If the assessment of the paper or components thereof counts for more than 25% in the result of the interim examination, or if a passing mark for a paper counts as a criterion for admission to the interim examination, then students are permitted to resubmit the paper in any case once per academic year. If this assessment of the paper or its components counts for less than 25% of the result of the interim examination, the Examiner will announce before the beginning of the corresponding course whether opportunities to resubmit will be offered; this will be made known in the student handbook. Before the beginning of the course, the Examiner will also announce in the student handbook how a component of a paper that counts as a criterion for admission to the interim examination can be resubmitted.

4. Students will be automatically registered for the first opportunity to take written and oral interim examinations in their study programme when they register for the corresponding courses. Students must register for resits of interim examinations at least five working days before the scheduled date of the examinations. If students register after this, they must pay a fee of 10 Euros for administration costs. With digital testing, however, post-registration is not possible. Notwithstanding the foregoing, students in the first year of study must register for an exam resit for a course in the fourth block no later than three working days before the scheduled date of the exam.
5. Unless they have written permission from the Examining Board, students cannot take interim examinations for courses that are intended for other categories of students. The registration conditions are listed on the Faculty Website.
6. Students who are more than 15 minutes late for a written exam will no longer be admitted to the examination room.
7. Students are not allowed to leave the room within the first 45 minutes after the written exam has started.
8. The fixed examination periods for written interim exams will be announced before the beginning of the academic year on the Faculty Website. The exact dates on which written interim examinations can be taken will be announced on the schedule page of the University Website no later than the end of the first week of the block in which the interim examination period falls.
9. If components of interim examinations are given outside the fixed examination periods, then these dates must be announced before the beginning of the course and at least one month before the examination date.
10. In exceptional cases, previously announced dates for written interim examinations can be changed. If the decision to change the date takes place five working days or less before the original date of the interim examination, all potential participants will be informed by e-mail. In all other cases, changes will be announced on Blackboard (under Onderwijsberichten).
11. The date of a written interim examination cannot be changed by moving it to an earlier date.
12. The locations of the written interim examinations will be announced on the schedule page of the University Website at least five working days before the relevant interim examinations are held.
13. Students must carry their student card and show this identification upon request when taking oral and written interim examinations.

Article 5.2 – Form of the interim examinations

1. Interim examinations will be given in the form and language as specified in the programme-specific part of these Regulations.
2. At the request of a student or the Examiner, the Examining Board can allow an interim examination to be given and taken in a different form or language than stated in the programme-specific part of these Regulations. Changes that take place at the request of the Examiner will be announced before the beginning of the course.
3. The weighting factors for the various components used to determine the result of the interim examination will be announced in the student handbook before the corresponding course begins.
4. During written interim examinations it is permissible to use dictionaries that translate from the language of the student to the language of the interim examination and the reverse. English-English and Dutch-Dutch dictionaries are not permitted. The dictionaries must not contain any notes attached by persons other than the publisher. During written interim examinations, the use of other aids (such as course readers) and apparatus that can be used to save texts and formulas is permitted only if the Examiner has stated this explicitly in the examination instructions. Watches are forbidden.
5. At the request of a student, the Examining Board can decide that students with a functional disability will be given the opportunity to take the interim examinations in a manner which is adapted as much as possible to their individual disability. If necessary, the Examining Board will acquire expert advice before making such a decision.

6. Oral interim examinations are given individually; no more than one person can be examined simultaneously. Oral examinations are not public, unless the Examining Board has ruled otherwise in a special case.
7. As a supplement to the above provision, an oral interim examination will be given by an Examiner in the presence of a co-lecturer. Instead of a co-lecturer being present, a recording of the oral interim examination can also be made.

Article 5.3 – Bachelor's thesis

1. Every student has the right to a supervisor from the study programme when writing his or her Bachelor's thesis. This supervisor is also the first evaluator of the thesis. In addition, the thesis is reviewed by a second assessor, who is on the staff of one of the departments involved in the degree programme.
2. Students must write their Bachelor's thesis individually.
3. Notwithstanding the provisions in clause 2, the Examining Board can decide in very exceptional cases to allow a thesis to be written by no more than two students. In that case the following rules apply:
 - each of the students provides an independent contribution to planning the research, to the conceptual-theoretical component, the operationalisation of theory, the description and analysis of research material and the conclusions and reflection
 - both students are responsible for the coherence of the thesis as a whole
 - as part of the thesis, the authors must specify their individual share in the realisation of the thesis and Both students must provide an equal contribution
 - the magnitude and/or depth of the thesis must be demonstrably greater than that of an individual thesis
 - the Examining Board must be informed beforehand by means of a research proposal from both students, accompanied by a written explanation from the thesis supervisor
 - both students will be given a separate mark for the thesis.

Section 6 – Interim examination results

Article 6.1 – Determining and announcing interim examination results

1. The Examiner determines the result (final mark) of an interim examination on a scale ranging from 0 (the lowest possible mark) to 10 (the highest possible mark), where only half and whole marks will be given. However, the mark of 5.5 will not be given. When rounding off a mark between 5 and 6, a mark below 5.5 is rounded off to 5 – a failing mark – which means that this component of the curriculum has not been passed. If the mark is exactly 5.5 or is between 5.5 and 6, then it is rounded off to six (6), a passing mark, which means that this component of the curriculum has been passed.
2. A course or course-replacement component of the curriculum has been passed if a mark of 6 or higher is earned.
3. If a student uses multiple opportunities to take an interim examination for a specific course, then the highest score counts, including the initial examination.
4. The results of oral and written interim examinations must be submitted to the Student Administration Office no later than the tenth working day after the day on which the interim examination was taken. If an oral examination lasts several days, then the result must be submitted to the Student Administration Office no later than ten days after the last oral exam session. If the result of an interim examination is based partly on the assessment of a paper, then the examination results must be submitted to the student administration office no later than the 10th working day following the last day of the corresponding examination week or re-sit week. Regarding the deadline for changing an examination result after post-inspection, see Article 6.4.
5. The student administration office announces the results no more than two days after the deadline on which the examination result must be submitted to this office. This announcement is made via Osiris. Students can derive rights only from examination results announced on Osiris. The results become final six weeks after the first announcement on Osiris.

6. Notwithstanding the provisions in Article 6.1.4, different deadlines apply to the resits for Block 4: the tenth working day becomes the fifth working day following the date of the last exam in the relevant exam week or re-sit week, the 12th working day also becomes the fifth working day after the last exam in the relevant exam week or re-sit week. These different deadlines also apply to the interim examinations of Block 4 of the first year of study.
7. When they are given the results of a written interim examination, students are informed of the right of post-inspection of the written exam and paper, as well as the possibility to submit an objection, initially with the Examiner, and the possibility to file an appeal with the Examination Appeals Board. When they are given the results of an oral exam, students are informed about the above-mentioned possibilities for objection and appeal.
8. The Examining Board, while taking account of the provisions in clause 4, can extend the term during which the results must be announced to a maximum of 15 working days following a written interim examination, based on a well-founded request submitted by the Examiner. This request must be submitted at least 15 working days before the scheduled written interim examination. The Examiner informs the students about the new date on which the results will be announced via Blackboard as well as on the coversheet for the written interim examination.
9. If it is impossible to comply with the provisions in clause 4 due to circumstances beyond his or her control, then the Examiner must report this as soon as possible to the Examining Board. The Examiner is required to publish the new date on which results will be announced – which is established in consultation with the Examining Board – on Blackboard.
10. If the Examiner is unable to correct the examinations within the allotted period, the Examining Board will appoint a replacement after having consulted with the professor who is substantively responsible for the course.
11. If the correction period is exceeded, the following regulation ('Exceeding the correction period') will take effect.
 - if the period between the day on which the results are announced on Osiris and the day on which the resit takes place is less than ten working days due to the correction period having been exceeded, another opportunity to take the resit will be provided. This second opportunity will be scheduled at least 10 and no more than 15 working days after the results have been announced. However, this emphatically does not concern an extra resit.
 - students can take either the regular opportunity to resit or the second opportunity. In the latter case, they must cancel their registration for the regular resit and be allowed to register in the usual fashion for the second opportunity
 - the results of the regular resit and the second opportunity will be announced simultaneously.
 - both opportunities are the same regarding the form and degree of difficulty of the interim examination.
12. The regular opportunity to resit the examination will be cancelled if all students withdraw their registration.
13. The possibilities for exceeding the correction period referred to in clauses 7 through 10 above are not in force during the interim examinations and resits in Block 4 of the first year of study.
14. The time period between the day on which the results of a written interim examination in Block 4 of the first year of study are announced via Osiris and the day of the resit for this exam must be at least five calendar days (not working days).
15. During the regular semester, the Examiner and the second evaluator provide a substantively supported assessment no later than 15 working days after the Bachelor's thesis is submitted.

Article 6.2 – Term of validity for interim examinations

1. Passed post-propaedeutic interim examinations of students who began their Bachelor's degree programme in academic years other than 2008-2009, 2009-2010 and 2010-2011 retain their validity, albeit with the restrictions as stated in clause 2.
2. If the interim examination for a course from the second and third years of study was passed more than five years ago, the Examining Board can require, based on substantive grounds, that a supplementary or substitute examination be taken before the student is eligible for the corresponding Bachelor's final examination.
3. If students do not pass all parts of a course that determine eligibility for, or the results of, the interim examination during an academic year, then the parts they did pass lose their validity after that year, unless the Examiner decides otherwise.

4. For students who began in 2008-2009, 2009-2010 and 2010-2011, all passed interim examinations in the post-propaedeutic phase of Bachelor's programme expire five years after the students have enrolled in the propaedeutic phase of that programme, if the final Bachelor's evaluation has not been successfully completed within that period.
5. Students whose attained results expire due to the provisions in clauses 2 and 4 of Article 6.2 can, in accordance with Article 7.11.5 of the Act, request a declaration from the corresponding Examining Board which in any case lists the interim examinations that they have passed.
6. If their passed interim examinations have expired due to the provisions in Article 6.2.4, students can re-enrol in the same Bachelor's degree programme. All interim examinations from the post-propaedeutic phase (120 ECs) must be taken again and passed within four years (calculated from the re-enrolment after the passed examinations have expired) before the students are eligible for the Bachelor's final examination.

Article 6.3 – Post-inspection, assessment and retention period

1. Within eleven working days after the announcement of the results of an interim examination, the student has an opportunity to inspect his or her evaluated written exam and paper and the questions/assignments on the written interim examination, as well as the norms which were used for the assessment. Inspection takes place at a place and time determined by the Examiner, but at least 15 working days before the first subsequent re-sit opportunity. The time and location will be announced via Blackboard as soon as possible after the interim examination result is announced, but at least five working day before the date of the inspection. Students must comply with the instructions given by the Examiner regarding the registration for and the state of affairs during the inspection.
2. If a collective inspection is held, students can request an individual inspection from the Examiner only if they are present at the collective inspection and explain their request, or are or have been prevented from attending the collective inspection as a result of demonstrable circumstances beyond their control. Such an individual inspection can take place up to 15 working days following the collective inspection. In case of a dispute between the Examiner and student about whether individual inspection is warranted, this should be referred as soon as possible to the Examining Board.
3. Notwithstanding the provisions in clause 1 above, the post-inspection of written interim examinations and resits from Block 4 of the first year of study are held no more the two working days after the results of a written interim examination are announced. The provision concerning the minimum number of days between the post-inspection of the exam and the first subsequent resit does not apply to these written interim examinations and resits.
4. During the post-inspection, students who did not participate in an internal examination can also be informed about the questions and answers on the corresponding written interim examination, as well as the standards used for the assessment.
5. By stating that they are co-authors of a group project, the members of the group indicate that they have each provided an equal contribution to the project. All members of the group can be held responsible for the content of the final report.
6. The Examining Board ensures the retention of written interim examinations and papers that are counted for the assessment for at least two years after the interim examination has taken place. Bachelor's theses and the corresponding assessment forms must be retained in the study programme administration for at least seven years.

Article 6.4 – Objection and appeal

1. If they do not agree with the evaluation of the written interim examination, students can lodge an objection with the Examiner. Within five working days after the post-inspection of the exam, the Examiner must indicate the extent to which this objection is valid or invalid. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Examiner of a written interim examination from the fourth block of the first year of study that has been assessed as unsatisfactory must indicate the extent to which this objection is valid or invalid within two working days.
2. If students disagree with the assessment of the oral interim examination, they can submit an objection with the Examiner within 48 hours after the assessment is announced. Within five working days after receiving this objection, the Examiner must indicate the extent to which this objection is valid or invalid.

3. In continuation of clauses 1 and 2 above, after the Examiner has responded to the objection, students can submit a written objection to the Examinations Appeals Board.
4. Within a maximum period of six weeks after the results of the interim examination have been announced, students can make an appeal to the Examination Appeals Board if they do not agree with the assessment of an interim examination.

The grounds for making an appeal are the following:

- conflict with the applicable regulations (such as the Education and Examination Regulations) and/or
- conflict with standards of reasonableness and fairness.

Submitting an objection to the Examiner does not suspend the term of appeal. In that case, the student can submit a 'pro forma' appeal to the Examination Appeals Board. In this pro forma appeal, the student does not state the grounds for appeal, but requests an extension of the term of appeal.

Article 6.5 – Fraud

1. Fraud is defined as any act or omission of a student when participating in an examination which partially or completely prevents a correct assessment being made about his or her knowledge, understanding and skills, or about the knowledge, understanding and skills of another student. Fraud is also defined as repeatedly submitting the same work for different assessments (for the same or another course) and therefore failing to provide the original performance that is expected by the assessor.
2. If fraud is suspected, the Examiner or monitor immediately informs the Examining Board.
3. Before ascertaining that fraud has taken place, the Examining Board can provide a hearing for the Examiner/monitor and the student; in any case, a hearing must be provided if one of these individuals requests this.
4. The Examining Board determines whether fraud has actually been committed.
5. If it is determined that fraud has been committed, then the Examining Board for the degree programme in which the student is enrolled determines which measures will be taken. The following measures can be taken:
 - this Examining Board can invalidate the results of interim examinations for which fraud has been ascertained
 - this Examining Board can ensure that the ascertained fraud is entered into the permanent record of the student involved.
 - this Examining Board can prevent a student who has committed fraud from taking interim examinations and the final examination in the degree programme for a maximum of one year. In that case, this Examining Board does not grant any exemptions based on interim examinations in a different programme that have been passed during the period of ineligibility.
 - if a student commits serious fraud, this Examining Board can propose that the administration of the institution definitively terminate his or her enrolment in the corresponding programme.
 - in Accordance with Article 8.3.9, the Examining Board can decide that the corresponding interim examination will not be considered for a degree classification.

Section 7 – Transition and exemption regulations and electives.

Article 7.1 – Transitional regulations

1. Students qualify for the transitional regulations if a course is no longer being offered.
2. The transitional regulations comprise in any case two additional opportunities to take the interim examination of the course and possibly the option to take a replacement course with two opportunities to take the interim examination; this course replaces the course no longer offered.

During each academic year, students can take advantage of no more than two of the possible four interim examination opportunities that result from such a transitional regulation.

3. The draft transitional regulations are drawn up by the study advisor and the coordinator of the relevant programme. The Examining Board approves the transitional regulations. The regulations are to be published on the Faculty Website no later than 31 May (before the beginning of the academic year in which the course will no longer be offered).

Article 7.2 – Electives and exemption from and substitution of interim examinations

1. If students want to choose a course as an elective that is not offered by Radboud University, then they must request approval in advance from the Examining Board. The Examining Board must reply within one month after receiving the request.
2. The Examining Board can provide exemption or dispensation from participation in an interim examination based on the results of previously passed interim examinations or final evaluations in courses in higher education with comparable difficulty and content, or based on knowledge and skills acquired outside higher education.
3. Students can substitute educational components in their curriculum with components they have passed at a university abroad, under the following conditions:
 - the relevant student must have signed a completely filled-in learning agreement in which he or she indicates which educational components will be replaced by educational components from the university abroad;
 - this learning agreement is signed – before the study abroad – by the Examining Board of the programme in which the student is enrolled;
 - after his or her stay abroad, the student must present certified proof that the described components have been passed, including the study load in ECs and the assessment.
4. If the study load and study results of the courses passed abroad deviate from the provisions in these regulations, conversion will take place. The Examining Board will decide about the conversion in accordance with the Radboud University memorandum 'Conversion of study load and study results'.

Section 8 – Final Examinations

Article 8.1 – General provisions concerning the final propaedeutic examination

The propaedeutic phase of the Bachelor's programme ends with the final propaedeutic examination. Students pass the final propaedeutic examination in a specific programme if they have satisfied each of the following conditions:

3. The degree that is awarded for completing the Bachelor's programme, which is referred to in clause 2, shall be awarded only if the student has earned at least 90 ECs for interim examinations and other components required for this degree at Radboud University, including the Bachelor's thesis.

4. The degree that is awarded for completing the Bachelor's programme, which is referred to in clause 2, shall be awarded only if the student has earned at least 90 ECs for interim examinations and other components required for this degree, including the Bachelor's thesis.

Article 8.3 – Result of the final examination

1. The Examining Board of the corresponding degree programme, once the student has presented sufficient evidence of his or her passed interim examinations and the corresponding academic training and development, will formally determine whether the requirements for passing the final examination have been satisfied, will specify the results of the final examination and will determine the degree classification, if any.
2. Subject to the provisions in this article, the Examination Board is the body that determines whether any, and if so what, degree classification (judicium) is awarded.
3. The degree classification (judicium)
 - a. “cum laude” is awarded if the weighted average of the final assessment of the components referred to in clause 4 is 8.0 or above, or
 - b. “summa cum laude” is awarded if the weighted average of the final assessment of the components referred to in clause 3 above is 9.0 or above.
4. The degree classification is based on all components of the final examination programme for which a mark is given on a scale from 0 through 10, with the exception of the extracurricular components.
5. As a weighting factor in the calculation of the weighted average result, the number of ECs of the component referred to in clause 4 are taken into account.
6. The degree classification “cum laude” is awarded with the Bachelor's diploma only if a mark of at least 8 is earned for the Bachelor's thesis.
7. The degree classification “summa cum laude” is awarded with the Bachelor's diploma only if a mark of at least 9 is earned for the Bachelor's thesis.
8. The degree classification is not awarded if resits are taken for more than 10 percent of the total study load of the final examination programme (being one or more components), unless the Examining Board decides otherwise with substantiation.
9. The Examining Board may decide not to award a degree classification if fraud is ascertained in any component of the entire degree programme.
10. No degree classification will be awarded if the total amount of exemptions (in ECs) is more than half of the total number of ECs to be earned.
11. Only marks earned for courses in the Bachelor's degree programme with a magnitude of 180 ECs are counted when determining the average mark for the Bachelor's courses. The Examining Board determines which courses are included in these 180 ECs.
12. The results of the passed interim examinations will be listed on the supplement to the certificate.
13. Students receive Dutch and English versions of the list of marks.

Article 8.4 – Final examination date and frequency of presentation of certificates

1. The date of the final examination is the last day of the month during which the mark on the last interim examination is determined.
2. Students must remain enrolled in the degree programme until the final educational activity has been completed.
3. The presentation of certificates takes place at least twice per year.

Section 9 – Study supervision

2. Students can consult Osiris for an overview of their study results.

Article 9.2 – Study supervision

The Dean is responsible for introduction and study supervision of the students who are enrolled in the degree programme; one aim of this supervision is their orientation towards potential study routes inside and outside the programme. This study supervision is provided by study advisors from the various Bachelor's degree programmes.

Also refer to the Structuurregeling (Articles 15 and 34) and the UGV and FGV Regulations (Article 3.3.1)

1. These regulations are enacted and amended by the Dean, after being advised in this matter by the Curriculum Committee and after approval by the Collective Faculty Meeting, by means of individual decree.
2. No changes to these regulations can be made that apply to the current academic year unless it can be reasonably determined that this does not damage the interests of the students.

Article 10.2 – Deviations from the Education and Examination Regulations

In individual cases and based on special conditions, the Examining Board is authorised to make a decision that deviates from the Education and Examination Regulations. This decision must not limit the rights of the student as set down in the Education and Examination Regulations.

Article 10.3 – Publication of the regulations
