

A photograph of children playing basketball on an outdoor court. The court is paved with dark grey tiles and has yellow boundary lines. In the background, there is a green artificial turf area. The children are in motion, and their figures are slightly blurred. One child in a grey jacket is on the left, another in a blue jacket is on the right, and a third in a red jacket is partially visible at the bottom right. An orange basketball is on the ground in the foreground.
