

The Donders Centre for Cognitive Neuroimaging at the Trigon building, Kapittelweg 29, is open for scientific research in volunteers. With this extra information brochure, we would like to inform you about the precautions measures in place.

We always follow the COVID-19 guidelines and advise of the National Institute for Public Health & Environment / RIVM: this forms the basis for our precaution measures. We take these measures to ensure safety for you as participant as well as for our researchers.

We would like to emphasize to stay at home and do a selftest and/or PCR test in case:

- you have one or more of the following symptoms in the past 24 hours:
  - coughing, symptoms of a common cold, fever or elevated temperature, shortness of breath, loss of taste and smell.

To stay at home in case:

- You are in isolation because you are tested positive for the corona virus
- You are in quarantine because you:
  - were in close contact with a household member or someone who has been tested positive on the corona virus recently

In case of doubt or questions, please contact the researcher to avoid coming in vain.

On arrival at the center:

We ask you politely to:

- disinfect your hands on arrival
- not shake hands.

We ask you to follow the instructions of the dedicated personnel. Please feel free to ask questions with respect to the precaution measures preferably in advance or during participation. The experimenter is happy to answer any questions.
