International and European Law Advanced at Radboud University:

- Study the core issues of European Union law and public international law.
- Focus on the subjects that you find most relevant for your future career.
- Many lecturers are also law practitioners.
- Guest speakers are regularly invited to share their experiences.
- The international mix of students gives the classes and project work a multicultural touch.

Anne Looijestijn-Clearie, senior lecturer in European Law:

"The Master's specialisation in International and European Law Advanced gives you the opportunity to acquire an advanced understanding of the core issues of European Union law and public international law. The specialisation offers you a broad perspective on European Union and international law and is therefore most suited to students interested to take up positions in research, consultancy or diplomacy.

At the same time, graduates are also well-qualified for work in the practice of law, counselling and advocacy."

More information:

Open Days

Every year in March and November, Radboud University organizes Open Days. We would like to invite you to our Law Faculty. Individual appointments throughout the year are also possible.

Contact

Please contact the admission officer for more information:

T: (0031) 24 361 55 36
E: l.spiertz@jur.ru.nl or internationaloffice@jur.ru.nl
W: ru.nl/masters/law

International and European Law Advanced

www.ru.nl/masters/law
Study programme

The Master’s specialisation in International and European Law Advanced is a 1-year (full-time) Master’s programme at the Faculty of Law of Radboud University, Nijmegen. All the courses are valued at 6 ECTS and the Master’s thesis is valued at 30 ECTS. The programme consists of courses in total.

Complimentary courses

Advanced Notions of International and European Law

This course offers an in-depth view of international and European law, allowing you to develop an intimate understanding of European and international law.

Public International Law Advanced

This advanced course deals with the preventive obligations of states and the right to a subsistence remedy, with the underlying themes of humanisation of state responsibility. The focus lies on the role of the International Court of Justice, on the one hand, and the business and international courts of human rights, on the other hand.

EU General Relations Law

This course focuses on the external dimension of EU law, the rules that govern the Union’s international relations as well as the so-called Common Foreign and Security Policy.

Some optional courses

Students have to select one semi-optional and a maximum of three other optional courses.

EU Competition Law

This course will deepen your knowledge of the basic principles of European competition law and policy.

EU Internal Market Law

The aim of this course is to enable students to understand the basic principles of European competition law and policy.

European Immigration Law

This course will focus on the external dimension of EU law: the rules that govern the Union’s international relations as well as the so-called Common Foreign and Security Policy.

Judicial Protection in the EU

This course focuses on the main forms of judicial protection under EU law, in the course of the current European Courts and the national courts of the member states.

Semi-optional courses

Optional courses

European Immigration Law

European Legal History

International Arbitration

International and Comparative Copyright Law

Law of European Union

Migration Law

Study load

1 year, full time

Lecture load

20 hrs of lectures per week

Admission requirements

1. A completed Bachelor’s (LL.B) or Master’s (LL.M) degree, or equivalent diploma in (European) Law.

2. A TOEFL score with a minimum score of 90 overall.

3. A motivation letter in English.

4. €2,760 tuition fee (2023-2024 academic year). All the courses are valued at 6 ECTS and the Master’s thesis is valued at 30 ECTS. The programme consists of courses in total.

5. English proficiency test:

- A TOEFL score with a minimum score of 90 overall
- A minimum score of 6.5 for listening, reading and speaking and a 6.0 minimum for the component of writing

- A Cambridge Certificate of Advanced English (CAE) with a grade A, B or C

- A Cambridge Certificate of Proficiency in English (CPE) with a grade A, B or C

- A TOEFL score with a minimum score of 90 overall
- A minimum score of 6.5 for listening, reading and speaking and a 6.5 minimum for the component of writing

Radboud University

Radboud University is a comprehensive, internationally oriented university that aims to be one of the best in Europe. Radboud University challenges students to actively participate in the learning process. The faculty combines high academic standards with personal education for students, the so-called personal education. The aim of Radboud University is to assure the relating number of students in the class. The means that lecturers can give a great deal of personal attention to their students and that integration into the local university community is quite easy. Moreover, lectures and seminars are usually able to speak two or three languages other than Dutch and welcome foreign students.

The faculty of law is situated in modern building, the Genesis building, located on a green hill overlooking the Waal river (a) most courts, earning homes, a restaurant and an experience bar. This faculty has more than 1,500 staff members and approximately 2,500 students. There are two high-quality research centres for Business and Law (OO&R) and for Migration Law.

The Law Faculty

The Hijmans Faculty of Law is a longstanding reputation for quality in research and in teaching. The faculty combines high standards with personal education for students, the so-called personal education. The aim of Radboud University is to assure the relating number of students in the class. The means that lecturers can give a great deal of personal attention to their students and that integration into the local university community is quite easy. Moreover, lectures and seminars are usually able to speak two or three languages other than Dutch and welcome foreign students.

The faculty of law is situated in modern building, the Genesis building, located on a green hill overlooking the Waal river (a) most courts, earning homes, a restaurant and an experience bar. This faculty has more than 1,500 staff members and approximately 2,500 students. There are two high-quality research centres for Business and Law (OO&R) and for Migration Law.

Hijmans

Hijmans is a true university town with a large variety of shops, restaurants and cafés. The city is the oldest in the Netherlands, dating back to Roman times. Today, it is a bustling student town, jass of students and students. The Hijmans Faculty of Law offers many educational programmes, from many academic courses, to full-time study programmes and research programmes. The faculty is known for its strong research and teaching quality. The faculty is also known for its strong focus on international law. The faculty is also known for its strong focus on human rights. The faculty is also known for its strong focus on international law and human rights. The faculty is also known for its strong focus on international law and human rights. The faculty is also known for its strong focus on international law and human rights.

Gabi Batista dos Santos, alumna

International and European Law Advanced

“The Master in International and European Law at Radboud University was a unique experience.

The Radboud University’s approach to teaching is combined with the help of a staff, which is not only knowledgeable about the subject, but also passionate about the process. The city of Nijmegen contributed to the nice atmosphere.”

Acquire an advanced understanding of the core issues of European Union law and public international law.

The Master’s specialisation in International and European Law Advanced gives you the opportunity to acquire an advanced understanding of the core issues of European Union law and public international law. It offers considerable freedom to focus on the subjects that you find most relevant for your future career. You can therefore apply a particular focus yourself and opt for a thematic package instead of a purely disciplinary one, something that is not common in other programmes and law schools.

- A motivation letter in English.