Student Mobility Short Stays
If the interested person is a student at a university that has an agreement with the UNLP, they may take a one-semester or two-consecutive-semester stay at our institution attending regular classes.

What should I know before starting my application?

1. The first step is to visit the website of the School of your interest to see the curriculum of the studies chosen. Courses may be of two semesters, one semester or three months. Therefore, you should control the condition of the courses you desire to take. If you cannot find that, you can send an email to the contact point of the academic unit.

2. In the case of one-semester or three-month courses, you should be aware of the semester during which you can take them.

3. The academic year at UNLP starts in March and ends in December.
   - 1st semester: March to July.
   - 2nd semester: August to December.
   - Summer holidays: January until mid-February.
   - Winter holidays: two weeks in July.

4. During one semester, it is possible to take no more than 4 courses as classes for each of them take 6 hours a week. Each course has theoretical and practical classes.

5. Studies that have most two-semester courses in their curricula are: Social Work, Architecture, Journalism and all courses at the School of Fine Arts.

6. Beginning and end dates depend on each school.

7. The UNLP certifies studies taken by means of number of hours and grades from 1 to 10. The origin university will turn these certifications pursuant to their own internal grades and regulations.

8. Acceptance letters are sent digitally.

9. Application dates are the following:
   - To take courses during the 1st semester (March-July): From September 1 to 30.
   - To take courses during the 2nd semester (August-December): From April 1 to 30.
If the interested person is a student at a university that has an agreement with the UNLP, they may take a one-semester or two-consecutive-semester stay at our institution attending regular classes.

What should I know before starting my application?

The first step is to visit the website of the School of your interest to see the curriculum of the studies chosen. Courses may be of two semesters, one semester, or three months. Therefore, you should control the condition of the courses you desire to take. If you cannot find that, you can send an email to the contact point of the academic unit.

In the case of one-semester or three-month courses, you should be aware of the semester during which you can take them.

The academic year at UNLP starts in March and ends in December.

1st semester: March to July.
2nd semester: August to December.
Summer holidays: January until mid-February.
Winter holidays: two weeks in July.

During one semester, it is possible to take no more than 4 courses as classes for each of them take 6 hours a week. Each course has theoretical and practical classes.

Studies that have most two-semester courses in their curricula are: Social Work, Architecture, Journalism and all courses at the School of Fine Arts.

Beginning and end dates depend on each school.

The UNLP certifies studies taken by means of the number of hours and grades from 1 to 10. The origin university will turn these certifications pursuant to their own internal grades and regulations.

Acceptance letters are sent digitally.

Application dates are the following:
To take courses during the 1st semester (March-July): From September 1 to 30.
To take courses during the 2nd semester (August-December): From April 1 to 30.

Application will be online (http://www.unlp.edu.ar/articulo/2011/5/18/estancias_cortas_rrii) and the site will be active during those dates. Out-of-date applications will not be accepted. Application must be printed and sent to alumnos.internacionales@presi.unlp.edu.ar with the following documents:

- UNLP policies duly signed and sealed by all parties (download this from section Documentos at http://www.unlp.edu.ar/articulo/2011/5/18/estancias_cortas_rrii)
- Psychophysical certificate duly signed and sealed by a medical practitioner (download this from section Documentos at http://www.unlp.edu.ar/articulo/2011/5/18/estancias_cortas_rrii)
- Copy of the first page of the passport.
- Reference letter from origin university.

Moreover, when arriving to the country, the student must present a copy of the life, repatriation and health insurance in which the name of the beneficiary and coverage period of time are clearly stated. It is also advisable to get in contact with the insurance company before your trip to know how to act in case it is needed.

To stay at the UNLP, during their stay, the student must hire a life, repatriation and health insurance valid in the Argentine Republic.