Enrolling in courses and working groups for first-year students
Nijmegen School of Management

Username for logging in to computers (choose one below):
E832172
E832174
E832176
E832178
E832180

Password
RUintro19!

Enrolling in courses
In order to participate in courses and exams, you have to enrol in advance. Enrolling in a course means that you are automatically registered for that course’s first examination opportunity. You must register for any resits on your own. Each course has its own course code. You will register for the courses with this course code so make sure you use the right code while registering for the courses. Below, you can find an overview of all courses for the study programmes and, in brackets, the course codes. If you are uncertain about anything, please contact the Student Information Point (STIP) via stip@fm.ru.nl or visit www.ru.nl/nsm/stip.

You can enrol in a course through Osiris. Osiris is Radboud University’s student information system. In Osiris, you can make any necessary address changes, request your exam results, and register and cancel enrolment for courses and exams. When you change your enrolment status for a course in Osiris, you will be added to or removed from the associated Brightspace course. In Brightspace you can find all the necessary study information.

This document explains how you can create your individual schedule and for which courses and associated working groups you must enrol on your own.

Selecting courses and working groups
You are going to enrol in the courses which you will be taking in the first semester: during blocks 1 and 2 (September 2019 till January 2020). Before you enrol for courses in Osiris, you need to know what courses you have to enrol in. This information is available in the schedule provided by your degree programme. At www.ru.nl/schedule you can find your schedule. A manual for the schedule can be found at www.ru.nl/nsm/it.

Working groups are a part of many courses during the first semester. Working groups involve working in smaller groups. Working groups are held at several different times. Take a good look at the schedule to determine which working group you want to enrol in. In the schedule, you will notice that working groups for different courses sometimes take place at the same time. Make sure that the meetings for the working groups you choose do not conflict with each other. Unless otherwise specified, each course has an accompanying working group.
Business Administration
If you follow the Bachelor’s programme in Business Administration, you have to register for the following courses:

- Academic Skills (BIN117BA)
- Introduction to Business Administration (BCU341)
- Methods of Research and Intervention (MOR002)

  Please note: Registering for working groups takes place through Brightspace.

- Statistics (MOR004)
- Organisation Theory (MOR001)

  Please note: You don’t need to register for working groups yet.

Economics and Business Economics
If you follow the Bachelor’s programme in Economics and Business Economics, you have to register for the following courses:

- Macroeconomics (BCU163EN)
- Introduction to Economics and Business Economics (BIN116EN)
- Methods of Research and Intervention (MOR002)

  Please note: Registering for working groups takes place through Brightspace.

- Academic Skills (BIN117EN)

  Please note: Registration for working groups takes place after the first lecture.

- Statistics (MOR004)