The Donders Centre for Cognitive Neuroimaging is situated in the Trigon. This is a grey concrete building located left of the big red brick building of the Hogeschool Arnhem Nijmegen (HAN).

You can find the main entrance on the right side of the building, facing the HAN building.

By train
You can take the train from Nijmegen Central Station to Station Nijmegen Heyendaal. This train runs every 15 minutes during rush hours and every 30 minutes outside rush time.

Note that Veolia is the carrier on this route, so you have to check out for NS and check in for Veolia at Nijmegen CS with your OV chipcard before travelling to Nijmegen Heyendaal.

From Station Nijmegen Heyendaal it’s a 5 minute walk to Trigon. The route is showed in the picture below.

Walk from train station Nijmegen Heyendaal to our institute
During working hours bus line 10, the Heyendaal Shuttle, runs every five to ten minutes directly from the central station of Nijmegen to campus Heyendaal. Bus line 10 runs only during weekdays and not during holidays and in weekends.

You have to get out at the busstop HAN at the Kapittelweg (one of the last stops on the Radboud campus). Then you cross the street and walk to the grey building, located to the left of the red HAN building.

By car

You can park your car in front of the main entrance on one of the parking permit spaces. This parking can be reached via a drive between the HAN and the Trigon building. The parking space is blocked by a barrier. Please push the button and ask the person answering to the signal to let you through.

If the parking in front of the DCCN is full, then you can park on the following university parkings: nr P6, P7, P9, P10, P11 (till 20 hrs), P12 (see map below, parking sites are black boxes with P+nr).

P11 and P12 are the closest parking spots to the Kapittelweg. This is paid parking; the parking fee is €2,00/hour on working days between 7:00-18:00 hrs with €10,00 as a maximum. Please note that you can’t park on Radboud University Medical Center parkings with Radboud University parking tickets.
