European Banking: Regulation, Strategies and Performance

change perspective

Radboud University
This course introduces you to post crisis regulatory and strategic development in the EU banking. The financial crisis of 2007 until 2009 stressed the need for a safer financial system.

Hence the course will focus, firstly, on the reaction to the crisis in the individual member-states, and then on the banking reforms at the EU-level. The recent regulatory and supervisory changes in the EU will be analyzed, starting from the Basic prudential regulations and concluding with the institutional aspects of the Banking Union project – the Single Supervisory Mechanism (SSM), the Single Resolution Mechanism (SRM) and the Single Resolution Fund (SRF), with references to the role of the European Banking Authority (EBA) and the European Systemic Risk Board (ESRB). Specific reference will be made to the recapitalisation of credit institutions in the resolution process after the crisis. A special focus will be placed on the competition and cooperation coming from the FinTech industry. The course will be analyzing how new competitive conditions influence bank strategies and business models and will provide you with a specialized knowledge of the functioning of the European banking markets, with a special focus on strategic developments and bank performance.

After this course you are able to

- Understand the roles and functions of different types of banks and the structure of the banking industries in the EU
