In the picture: Salone degli Affreschi, Palazzo Ateneo, University of Bari
The University headquarter (Ateneo) and the Faculty of Law are located in the very centre of the city, very close to one another, in the proximity of the central station and many bus stops. There is a direct train arriving from the airport to the central station in 15 min. If you choose a house in the city centre, everything will be within walking distance. The most central areas are "Murat", the old city “San Nicola” and "Quartiere Umbertino". The University is in the Murat area.
Welcome to Palazzo Ateneo. Here you will find the administrative offices of all the faculties (including Law) and the Aula Magna.

The building is also the headquarter of the humanistic pole. It’s possible to use the libraries as studying rooms, but you will not find law books here.

The Faculty of Law is just a few steps ahead.
Inside the Ateneo

At the ground floor you will find this courtyard, the Aula Magna, a cafe and a cash dispenser. That’s useful in Italy, since not everywhere is possible to pay by card.
Many conferences take place here. Some are in English and open to students. Anyway it’s nice to have a look at this beauty!
These are the two buildings of the Faculty of Law. Just a few steps separate them, so in a short distance you can find all your classes and the libraries that you need.
