Registering for study abroad 2020/2021

Studying abroad is an exciting and highly rewarding, though often challenging experience, and one that will remain with you for the rest of your life. The experiences and skills developed while abroad further academic and personal development, cultural and social awareness, provide a foundation for further study and enhance career prospects.

Go Global!

• You don’t have to pay tuition fees abroad, so studying as an exchange student is relatively cheap
• You will get a new view on the world and appreciate your home country better
• You will get financial support to go abroad
• It looks good on your CV
• You will make international friends for life.
• It is possible to go abroad and still finish your bachelor’s in 3 years
• It is fun: last year’s student’s rated their stay abroad with an average of 8.2
• It is now or never
• It is definitely more challenging, exciting and adventurous than staying at home

• Check if the university offers enough interesting courses in a language you speak in the semester you want to go

• Please note that some courses may not be open to exchange students, so always look if the university has a list of courses for exchange students

• A course with an English title may still be in the local language

• As a Bachelor’s student you generally cannot choose graduate courses (= master’s courses)

• Once a place is granted, you are expected to accept the place

Important points

• Clicking on the name of the university will take you to the homepage, the international office page or the list of available courses of the university.

• Generally South American universities do not offer courses in English. You need a good command of Spanish or Portuguese to study there.

• Australia and USA are expensive destinations. You will spent probably twice as much there as here in NL. Canada is more affordable, but still not cheap. Working is possible in Australia, but generally not in the USA. Working illegally, especially in the USA, is a very bad idea.

• Contrary to what you might expect Japan is quite affordable.

• Bear in mind that you will have extra costs when choosing a destination outside Europe, because you will probably need vaccinations and a visa.

• If you want to go to the USA, you have to choose between ISEP and our bilateral contracts. You cannot register for both. Deadline for ISEP is 16 January. More info on ISEP in Dutch and English. For ISEP you also start your application in OSIRIS and continue on the ISEP website to submit a complete application.

Europe

Types of Erasmus contracts:

Radboud University:
New university-wide contracts with 5 UK-universities. You can study at any faculty of those universities and all Social Science students have equal chance to be selected.

Faculty of Social Sciences:
Contracts with faculties of other universities. All Social Science students have equal chance to be selected.

Gender studies:
Contracts with gender studies abroad. Courses in other domains may be possible. All Social Science students have equal chance to be selected.

Contracts of programmes:
Artificial Intelligence, Anthropology and Development Studies et cetera all have their own contracts. Students of the programmes have priority. As, for example, a Communication Science student you can go abroad on a Psychology contract, but only if Psychology students leave a place open. Bear in mind that you have to take courses of the programme from the contract. It generally is not possible to take for example Anthropology courses on a Psychology based exchange.

- Finding courses online can be a bit of a challenge. Try googling `<name of university> + exchange courses`.
  - UK and Ireland: `<name of university> + exchange modules`

- If you go to an English speaking country: not all modules/courses may be open to exchange students. Always check the exchange guide.

- You will be going abroad as an exchange student, not as an international student. Information for international students might not be valid for you.

For inspiration and more info on universities abroad check the experiences from other RU-students.

If you only find a few reports, try searching on Faculty. Searching on Country doesn’t always show all the experiences.

Brexit

Brexit with a deal:
Business as usual. The Erasmus+ exchange will continue like before, with an Erasmus+ grant.

Brexit without a deal:
Exchange with most universities will continue, but with an Individual Travel Grant. Bangor University (Psychology) has made no decision yet and will decide later on if they will still accept exchange students.

Brexit will be delayed again:
- In case your exchange starts before the new leave-date: most probably business as usual. The Erasmus+ exchange will continue like before, with an Erasmus+ grant.
- In case your exchange starts after the new leave-date: see above

January exams

Check the academic calendar of the university where you want to go for semester dates.

In Australia, Canada, Cyprus, Finland, Hong Kong, Norway, Spain and the UK semesters (and perhaps other countries as well) may start earlier than here, so it is possible that you have to leave before the exam period at Radboud University has ended.

For all mandatory courses we will find do our best to find a solution.

We will try to send the exam abroad, so you can make it on the same day as here in NL. However, this is not always possible, due to time differences, or because the university abroad doesn’t offer this service. In that case you will get an alternative (for example: an extra exam opportunity in the Summer)

Known universities that don’t organise RU-exams abroad:
- University of Glasgow
- University of Limerick
- Université Paul-Valery (Montpellier)
- University of Bergen organises only exams in the morning.

CAOS: 1\textsuperscript{st} Semester of your 3\textsuperscript{rd} year

All other programmes: 2\textsuperscript{nd} semester of your 3\textsuperscript{rd} year.

Additional requirements (\textit{harde eis}, non-negotiable):

- AI: 120 ec achieved by 15-07-2020
- Psychology: Year 1 and year 2 completed by 31-08-2020. In case you don’t meet that demand, but you have at least 120 ec completed, an exception might be made. Might, so no guarantees.

- You are only allowed to choose IOSS-contracts (from the previously shown lists).
- In ‘degree programme’ always select your current programme, e.g., B Psychology. Even if you want to do the exchange on a contract of another programme.
- Never select B AP-programmes. We cannot see your request if you do and you won’t get selected.
- You have to choose 2 or 3 destinations. If you only select 1 you won’t be able to proceed.
- Please be sure that the universities you choose offer enough interesting courses in a language you speak.
  - Don’t trust hearsay.
  - Don’t assume courses with English names will be in English.
  - Always check yourself
I really love the idea of going abroad. I can already picture myself at a Spanish outdoor café drinking Sangria!!! It would be super chill to study in Sevilla, because it is a really cosy city with marvellous architecture. And I would love to take flamenco lessons when I am there. Such a passionate dance!! I would also love to take Spanish lessons of course, because I now only can say ¡Buenos días! Hahaha. I am already excited and I can’t wait to be there: sun, sea and tapas. Just thinking about it makes me happy and I can’t wait to hop on the plane. I hope I’ll get selected for Sevilla, that would be really wonderful, but another Spanish city is fine by me as well.

Do’s and don’t for your motivation letter

DO:

1. Give us reasons to choose you for this university if there are more candidates that places. We want to see that you did your homework and know what the university has to offer. Let us know why this university has added value to you.

2. Your motivation primarily has to be academic, but give it a personal twist.

3. Keep it short, max 350 words. Yes, this is enough to write a brilliant motivation letter.

4. Bear in mind that we have to process more than 200 applications in a very short time. Try to keep us hooked with your motivation.

1. Do not: use clichés like:
   - I want to step out of my comfort zone.
   - I have always known that I wanted to study abroad.
   - I want to go to an English speaking country to improve my English / because I only speak English.

2. Do not sum up a list of all the courses you want to take.

3. We know who you are, so do not waste a part of your 350 words to introduce yourself.
Registering for study abroad 2020/2021

• This motivation letter is for internal use only. Only the Mobility Coordinator of your programme and the IOSS will read this letter.

• You can write in Dutch, German or English. Use your native language.

• Max. 350 words.

• Put emphasis on your first choice and briefly mention why you would be happy with your second and third choice.

• Take care of correct spelling and grammar. A letter with mistakes doesn’t make a good first impression.
Registering for study abroad 2020/2021

Important points

- You can only register for universities mentioned on the previously shown IOSS-pages.

- The registration is not without obligation. When you get an exchange place this means you are expected to go to that place. 'I changed my mind' is not a valid reason not to go.

- Still doubting you should go? Then don't register. Not all places will be used, so even after the deadline there will be enough interesting places available to go to.

- Take the language requirements seriously. It's hard to get your credits when your level is not high enough. Sevilla and several French universities already demand an official language certificate proving your level and more and more universities will do the same.

- The Erasmus+ contracts have consequences for the available courses → generally you have to take at 50% courses of the programme of the contract.

- We expect you to get at least 18 ec abroad, even if you already have enough credits to get your diploma.
The selection

- If the number of students wanting to go \( \leq \) number of places at a university, then everyone will be selected for that university.

- If the number of students wanting to go > number of places at a university, then the motivation will be used for the selection. In case there are more students with an equally good motivation than places, the students with the higher average grades will be selected.

- We will first check if you can go to your first choice. If not, you will be put on hold until all first choices are selected. After that we will check if you can go to your second place. Your second choice might be somebody else’s first choice, so if your second choice is full, you will be put on hold again and later we will check if there are still places at your third choice.

- The unfair consequence of the selection is that some students with really bad motivations still can go their first choice, while students with quite good motivations will be selected for their third choice or perhaps will not be selected at all. Remember this if you want to go to popular destinations. Don’t think you failed if you were not chosen for your first choice.

- Selection studying outside of Europe:
  - S-contracts: IOSS makes a pre-selection and discusses those with the programme mobility coordinator.
  - U-contracts. IOSS selects a top-3 for the central IO. The central IO will make the decision.

- Erasmus selection:
  - IOSS makes a pre-selection and the programme mobility coordinators will have the final say.

Announcement and following process

Announcement placement
Around 20 February you will hear if you are placed on a university outside Europe. At the latest of 1 May you will hear if you are placed on an Erasmus university.

Then what?
In April and May all students who will go on exchange in the first semester and most students who will go to a university outside of Europe will be nominated at the university abroad.

The other students will be nominated between September and December.

After the nomination the university abroad will send you information about:
  • The city and the university
  • Courses you can choose
  • Housing: most universities offer housing or else help you with finding a room.
  • Visa procedures (not for Erasmus destinations*)

*If you are studying at RU with a student visa, please let us know, even if you stay in Europe.

Important points

• You don’t have to pay tuition fees at the university abroad. As you need to be registered as a student of RU you will have to pay tuition fee (collegegeld) during you stay abroad

• Most universities organise an introduction. Be sure to participate, because you will quickly get to know new people, the university and the city.

• Most universities offer housing and if they don’t: finding a room abroad is much easier than here in NL.

• In several countries semesters start earlier than here, so it is possible that you have to leave before the exam period at Radboud University. For all mandatory courses we will find a solution. Please be flexible, because this exam may be different from the exam here in Nijmegen.
