Monday 20 January

Session 1 – Chair: Carla Rita Palmerino
13:00-13:15 – Word of Welcome
13:15-14:05 – Theo Verbeek, Introduction
14:15-15:05 – Roger Ariew, Teaching Descartes’ Ethics in London and Cambridge
15:15-16:05 – Igor Agostini, Johannes Schuler (d. 1676), Anti-Cartesian reactions in Seventeenth Century English Philosophy
16:15-17:05 – Sarah Hutton, The Earliest Teaching of the Philosophy of Descartes at the University of Cambridge

Tuesday 21 January

Session 2 – Chair: Jan Papy
9:30-10:20 – Howard Hotson, Post-Ramist Eclecticism and the Earliest Teaching of Cartesianism in Leiden: Adriaan Heereboord, 1640-61
10:30-11:20 – Antonella Del Prete, Teaching Cartesian Philosophy in Leiden: Adriaan Heereboord and Johannes de Raey
11:30-12:20 – Davide Cellamare, Class Notes on Christoph Wittich’s Course on the Meditations on First Philosophy
12:20-13:30 – Lunch
Session 3 – Chair: Raphaële Garrod

13:30-14:20 – Domenico Collacciani, Understanding Old and New Philosophy: Johannes de Raey’s Dictata on Discourse and Principia

14:30-15:20 – Erik-Jan Bos, Cartesian and Anti-Cartesian Corollaries to Utrecht Disputations between 1650 and 1670

15:30-16:20 – Daniel Garber, Historicizing Cartesianism: Opposing Descartes at the University of Utrecht, 1683-86

Wednesday 22 January

Session 4 – Chair: Christoph Lüthy

9:00-09:50 – Mattia Mantovani, A War of Nerves: Descartes’ Philosophy in Louvain, 1637-1671

10:00-10:50 – Geert Vanpaemel, Embracing Novelty: Cartesianism From the Teacher’s Perspective

11:00-11:50 – Steven Coesemans, Traces of the Logique de Port-Royal in Louvain Logic Curricula

12:00-12:50 – Sophie Roux, Jacques du Roure: School Boarder, Uncle of a Rebel, Cartesian

12:50-13:10 – Concluding Remarks