Part 1 General Provisions

Paragraph 1 General Provisions

Article 1.1 Aim and Applicability

1. These Education and Examination Regulations (EER) (hereinafter, regulations) apply to the Master's degree programme in Psychology, CROHO 60260, (hereinafter, the programme). The programme is set up by the Executive Board of Radboud University (hereinafter RU) and is offered by the Faculty of Social Sciences (hereinafter, the faculty). Part 2 of these regulations lists the provisions applicable to all Master's degree programmes of the faculty. Part 3 specifies the additional provisions applicable to this particular programme.
2. The present regulations apply to all students enrolled in the programme in 2024-2025.
3. In order to prevent students from being disadvantaged by changes to these regulations, a programme may decide to make appropriate transitional arrangements. Such transitional arrangements specify the students to whom they are applicable. Transitional regulations are valid for one academic year. If no transitional arrangements are made or if transitional arrangements are terminated, students may apply the hardship clause (Article 11.1).

Article 1.2 Guidelines Executive Board

1. With a view to the organization and coordination of the provisions in these regulations, the executive board has adopted the following guidelines:
Guidelines Distinctions Regulation
2. The provisions in these education and examination regulations apply respecting the provisions of the guideline referred to in paragraph 1 of the present article.

Article 1.3 Definitions

1. The terms used in these regulations, which are also used in the Higher Education and Research Act (Wet op het hoger onderwijs en wetenschappelijk onderzoek, hereinafter, the Act) will have the same meaning as these terms have in the Act.
2. Apart from the terms referred to in paragraph 1, is understood by;
 - contact hour: an education hour in which the lecturer is either physically or virtually present, where face-to-face or virtual interaction is possible;
 - EC (European Credit): the course load entity in accordance with the European Credit Transfer System (ECTS), in which 1 EC is equivalent to 28 hours of study;
 - education week: week in which education is provided, as laid down in the RU's annual time table;
 - examination: the entirety of interim examinations, resulting in a Master's degree certificate;
 - examiner: a person appointed by the Examination Board to administer examinations and determine the results;
 - extra-curricular elective unit of study: component to be determined by the student, which is not part of regular curriculum;
 - fraud: any act or omission by a student which, in its nature, is intended to have as an effect that proper assessment of the knowledge, understanding and skills of that student or another student, is made fully or partially impossible (Appendix 1);
 - free elective unit of study: component entirely to be determined by the student, which is part of the free elective room of the regular curriculum;
 - final assignment: final paper for the programme, also known as dissertation or thesis;
 - interim examination: umbrella term for all common assessment methods, as referred to in article 7.10 paragraph 1 of the Act and as described in article 4.1.1;

- interim examination date: the date on which the interim examination is administered by or on behalf of the examiner;
 - module examination: an examination with respect to the knowledge, understanding and the skills of the examinee, as well as the assessment of the outcomes of that examination, which in coherence with one or more other examinations referred to here, constitute the interim examination as referred to in article 7.10 paragraph 1 of the Act. Where these regulations refer to interim examination, this term also includes module examination unless stipulated otherwise;
 - pre-master: a programme as referred to in article 7.30e of the Act to support students who do not meet the admission requirements of the Master's programme;
 - prospective student: a student who has registered in Studielink, but has not yet enrolled;
 - resit: the re-examination of an examination as referred to in article 7.10 paragraph 1 of the Act. Where these regulations refer to interim examination, this term also include resits, unless stipulated otherwise;
 - unit of study: part of the degree programme (component) as referred to in article 7.3 of the Act;
 - working day: Monday to Friday, with the exception of public holidays as specified in the CAO for Dutch Universities and the collective free days designated by the Executive Board;
3. Where these regulations refer to 'the student', the prospective student is included, wherever relevant.

Part 2 General Part

Paragraph 2 Admission to the programme and education

Article 2.1 Admission requirements and procedures

1. Decisions on admission to the programme are taken, on behalf of the dean, by the Admission Board.
2. The admission requirements are laid down in article 8.1 of the programme-specific part of these regulations.

Article 2.2 Pre-master

1. In the event that not all admission criteria have been met but the Admission Board is of the opinion that the deficiencies can be remedied within a reasonable period of time, the scope and the content of a pre-master programme will be determined upon request.
2. If applicable, the pre-master programme is attached as an appendix.
3. The student will only be admitted to the master degree programme if the pre-master programme has been completed and all admission requirements have been met.

Article 2.3 Admission to tuition and examinations

1. Students who are enrolled in the programme may attend all units of study in that programme and may sit the corresponding interim examinations.
2. In derogation of the provision in paragraph 1 specific (non) content-related admission requirements may be requested for a unit of study. These are laid down in article 8.2 of the programme specific part of these regulations.
3. In special circumstances, the Examination Board may exempt the student from the entry requirements, with or without imposing alternative requirements.
4. Registration for tuition and examinations is not made dependent on other financial contributions than tuition fees, unless costs should be involved, to be determined by the dean in a separate decision, in relation to participation in any practical exercises, educational excursions or workshops in the degree programme that follow from the special nature of the degree programme. If any costs referred to in this paragraph should be involved, these costs are listed in the Education catalogue. The dean offers an alternative, free of charge, unless the educational facility cannot be replaced.
5. In order to take an elective unit of study from another degree programme, students must meet the applicable admission requirements of that programme.

Paragraph 3 Structure and form of the programme

Article 3.1 Master's final examination, degree and distinction

1. The programme will be concluded by the Master's final examination.
2. The student who has passed the final examination of the Master's degree programme will be awarded the Master of Science (MSc) degree.
3. The Examination Board may award a distinction to a student who has successfully passed the Master's final examination. The rules for awarding a distinction have been laid down in the Guideline for Distinctions.

Article 3.2 Learning outcomes and curriculum

1. The programme comprises the total units of study as described in article 9.5 and 9.6 of the programme-specific part of these regulations, aimed at the realisation of well-defined objectives in the areas of the knowledge, understanding and skills that those completing the course are deemed to possess.
2. The learning outcomes of the programme are laid down in article 9.1 of the programme-specific part of these regulations.

3. In the context of the programme the student is required to write a final assignment as an individual proof of competence. The Examination Board may decide this requirement is to be replaced by participation in a research project or by an internship which is subject to an individual report in accordance with applicable academic standards.

Article 3.3 Adding units of study (extra-curricular)

1. Adding elective units of study outside the programma, obtained during registration of the programme, is permitted. These units of study may be either at bachelor level or at master's level.
2. No permission of the Examination Board is needed for adding units of study at the Radboud University, Dutch and partner universities abroad. However, permission is required for the incorporation of extra-curricular components from institutions other than those mentioned in this paragraph.
3. In the event that workload and study results of the units of study to be incorporated differ from those provided for in these regulations, achieved results will be registered as 'sufficient' (voldoende) or 'fail' (onvoldoende).
4. Added units of study will be listed on the diploma.

Article 3.4 Exemptions

1. Granting exemptions from units of study is permitted, unless provided otherwise in the programme-specific part of these regulations.
2. At the request of a student and having heard the examiner involved, the Examination Board may exempt the student from a unit of study, if this student:
 - a. has either completed a relevant unit of study of a university or higher professional programme that is similar both regarding contents and level; or
 - b. demonstrates - after successfully passing an assessment as requested by the examiner - having adequate knowledge and skills regarding the unit of study in question as a result of relevant work experience or professional experience
3. For units of study in the first period of the first year exemptions may be granted up to two weeks after the start of the unit of study. For all other units of study exemptions must be granted before the start of the unit of study.
4. The percentage of exemptions will never be more than 50 percent of the programme's credits.
5. No exemption will be granted for the final assignment.
6. In the case of a Double Degree Programme, the student can address a request to the Examination Boards of both Degree Programmes to perform only one graduation project that meets the final requirements of both Degree Programmes. Such a request will only be honoured if both Examination Boards agree.
7. The Examination Board does not grant exemptions on the basis of results obtained in the period in which the student was banned from sitting interim examinations as referred to in the Regulations on fraud Radboud University (Appendix 1).

Article 3.5 Elective programme

1. The programme's Examination Board decides on a request for permission to attend an elective programme as meant in article 7.3d of the Act. The Examination Board will verify whether the programme fits within the degree programme's domain which the Examination Board is accountable to, if it is sufficiently coherent and if the level is adequate in the context of the programme's learning outcomes.
2. The request in question will have to be submitted at least two months prior to the start of the programme.

Article 3.6 Teaching periods and examinations

1. The programme will be offered in an annual schedule consisting of two semesters, set by the Executive Board.
2. A semester is divided in two periods.
3. At the end of each period interim examinations are scheduled.
4. The programme-specific part at least arranges in which semester the opportunity is provided to attend courses and to sit the interim examinations of the units of study.
5. In derogation of the provision in paragraph 1 and 2 of this article, the Master's programmes can adjust the semester schedule to fit educational needs.

Article 3.7 Language

Article 9.4 of the programme-specific part of these regulations stipulates the language/languages in which the units of study are taught.

Article 3.8 Participation in education

1. Participation in education is optional, unless this has been otherwise specified in the course manual of the relevant unit of study;
2. The exact specifications of the participation requirement and any sanctions related to not satisfying this requirement must also be indicated in the course manual of the relevant unit of study.

Paragraph 4 Examinations

Article 4.1 Structure and requirements of the examinations

More detailed provisions regarding the assessment of the units of study are outlined in the Rules and Regulations of the Examination Board.

1. Each unit of study of the programme will be completed by an interim examination. Interim examinations may comprise more than one module examination. Examples are written or oral (interim) examinations and can be taken either physically or digitally. Apart from written or oral examinations, tests with multiple choice and/or open questions, papers, theses, assignments, take-home examinations, reports, presentations or a combination of any of these is possible.
2. In addition to the provisions set forth in paragraph 1 for units of study that also comprise a practical and/or work group, attendance levels and the degree of active participation may be included in final grading.
3. In principle, oral interim examinations are administered in public and these examinations consist of an individual test in which, normally no more than one person is tested at the same time.
4. Oral interim examinations are administered in the presence of at least a second examiner or an observer appointed by the Examination Board. Otherwise the interim examination is to be recorded. In the case that a presentation is part of the final examination, the same rules apply. The same applies to presentations that count for 40% or more of the final grade. This provision does not refer to practical assignments.
5. At the request of the student the Examination Board may, on behalf of the dean, decide that students with an impairment, by way of special examination facilities, sit the interim examinations in a form adapted to that impairment. Prior to making a decision on this matter, the Examination Board may seek expert advice. In so far as facilities in the context of a 'digital test' are concerned, the Examination Board, when formatting the facility, may seek advice from the faculty's digital testing coordinator.
6. In the Education catalogue information will be provided for each individual unit of study on the way in which the interim examinations will be administered.
7. Representative sample questions will be made available to the students at least one week prior to the examination. The student is given the opportunity to check their answers to the sample examination (e.g. via a question & answer lecture or answer model). The sample questions are representative of the format and content of the upcoming interim examination. More sample questions will be available for interim exams with a substantial amount of content. For examination forms such as papers, theses/theses, assignments, reports and presentations, the assessment criteria should be available to students when the assignment is given.
8. The course manual must be published at least one week before the start of the unit of study on the online learning environment. The course manual includes topics for the interim examination preparation, compulsory literature, a table outlining the workload for students, examination methods and weighting of various interim examination parts in the determination of the final grade.
9. Interim examination dates must be announced no later than one month before the start of a semester.
10. If a unit of study starts on the first day of an academic period set by the Executive Board, no requirements may be imposed on students regarding literature having been studied or assignments having been completed for that unit of study on that day. Necessary preparatory actions - such as reading course manuals or looking for an internship - are permitted.

11. If there are legitimate grounds for it, the Examination Board may decide in special cases to use an assessment method other than that which is specified in the course manual.

Article 4.2 Rules when administering examinations

For the proper course of events during examinations that are administered in the examination rooms of the Radboud University, the dean has adopted the Regulations on Examination Rooms Radboud University in a separate decision. In order to provide the student with proper and clear information these rules have been attached to these regulations as Appendix 2.

Article 4.3 Frequency of examinations

1. For each unit of study opportunity is given for one interim examination and one resit each academic year, on the dates set by the programme director unless provided otherwise in the programme-specific part of these regulations.
2. If the examination referred to in paragraph 1 consists of module examinations, the resit also consists of module examinations, unless stated otherwise in the programme specific part.
3. Contrary to the stipulation in paragraph 1, there will be only one opportunity to take an interim examination for a unit of study that was not taught in that particular academic year. The Examination Board may decide otherwise.

Article 4.4 Language of the examinations

The interim examinations are offered in the programme's language of instruction, unless provided otherwise in the programme specific part of these regulations.

Article 4.5 Registration and application for examinations

1. Students register through OSIRIS for a unit of study of the programme.
2. If students are registered for a unit of study they are also registered for the first interim examination in the corresponding academic year.

Article 4.6 Resit of examinations

1. Interim examinations may be retaken once within the same academic year, even when the result is a pass.
2. In derogation of the provision in paragraph 1 of this article, a paper (report, essay, assignment) that receives a passing grade cannot be resubmitted unless otherwise indicated in the course manual.
3. If a student wants to resit an interim examination, they have to register themselves.
4. Registering for a resit is possible until 11.59 pm on the day before a period of five working days preceding the date of the resit meaning there must always be five full working days between the registration deadline for a particular resit and the date of that resit. The day on which the resit takes place is never included in this period of five working days. After this date registration no longer is possible. The Examination Board, on behalf of the dean, may in special cases decide otherwise as long as this is logistically possible.
5. If a student resits an interim examination, in all cases the most recent grade will determine the final result.
6. The course manual contains provisions on retaking module examinations.
7. If a student does not pass the interim examination within the academic year the student must retake the entire unit of study a following academic year, unless the examiner decides otherwise.

Article 4.7 Determination of results

1. The final grade of a unit of study will be rounded to the nearest whole and half grade points, as follows: 1; 1.5; 2; 2.5; 3; 3.5; 4; 4.5; 5; 6; 6.5; 7; 7.5; 8; 8.5; 9; 9.5; 10, unless the grade is not expressed as a number, see 4.8.
2. As determined in paragraph 1, the results of a unit of study cannot be set at 5.5. For arithmetical scores between 5 and 6, a score lower than 5.50 will be rounded to 5 and a score equal to or higher than 5.50 will be rounded to 6.

The degree programme's course manual contains provisions on rounding scores of modular examinations for the different units of study.

3. If the result of a unit of study equals or is greater than 6.0 points, the unit of study is passed. If the result of the unit of study equals or is less than 5.0 points, the student has failed the unit of study.

Article 4.8 Alphanumeric results

Without prejudice to the provisions of article 4.7, the following alphanumeric results are established and registered in Osiris in the following cases:

- a. 'P' (pass, voldaan), if the student has met the requirements for completing the unit of study;
- b. 'NA' (not accomplished, niet voldaan), if the student does not meet the requirements for completing the unit of study (for example: this is the case when a student has not participated in a compulsory educational activity);
- c. 'EX' (exemption, vrijstelling), if the Examination Board has granted an exemption, with due consideration for the provisions in these regulations, for a unit of study of the examination programme;
- d. 'SU' (sufficient, voldoende), if the student passed the unit of study;
- e. 'F' (fail, onvoldoende), if the student has failed the unit of study;
- f. 'FR': fraud (fraud, 'fraude'): if the Examination Board has established that fraud was committed when the examination was administered and the Examination Board has declared the result of the interim examination in question invalid, with due consideration of the provisions of the Regulations on Fraud attached to these regulations as Appendix 1.

Article 4.9 Publication of results

1. The examiner will determine the results of an examination and is ultimately responsible for the correct registration of results in OSIRIS.
2. Grading period:
 1. In case of an oral examination, the examiner will determine the result immediately or within five days after the interim examination was administered.
 2. In case of written or digital interim examinations, the grading period is no longer than fifteen working days after the day the interim examination was administered. This also applies to written and digital module examinations and to assignments/papers. If there are more than one hundred participants, a grading period of twenty working days applies to assignments/papers and examinations containing open questions.
3. By way of exception the Examination Board may - in consultation with the examiner- extend the period referred to in paragraph 2 or reduce this period. Students must be informed before the expiry of the deadline.
4. The grading period is mentioned on the examination form or the digital learning environment.
5. A minimum period of ten working days must be maintained between the date of the announcement of the result and the date of the resit, except for units of study in the fourth period with both the interim examination and the resit in the same period, where this minimum period is five working days.
6. In derogation of paragraph 5, for module examinations the period between the announcement of the result and the date of the resit may be shorter than ten working days.
7. When the results are published, the student will be informed about the right to inspect their marked work as referred to in article 4.8 and about the possibility of appealing at the Examinations Appeals Board.
8. During completion of the programme's final project an independent second reader will be consulted as well as a thesis supervisor.
9. In the case of suspected fraud or plagiarism, the provisions contained in the Regulations on Fraud during examinations and examinations must be followed (Appendix 1).

Article 4.10 The right to inspect the examinations

1. Within a period of a maximum of twenty working days following the publication of the results of a examination, module examination or resit the student in all cases has the right to inspect the questions and the work marked, as well as receive an explanation of the formal assessment criteria.
2. If deemed necessary, the Examination Board can, after consultation with the examiner, extend or shorten the period of twenty working days as mentioned in paragraph 1 of this article.

3. The inspection will take place under supervision of at least an examiner and/or another person with substantive knowledge regarding the course.
4. The examiner may decide that inspection will take place for all students at the same time, on a date and at a time and place set prior to the date of inspection.
5. Time, date and - preferably - place of the inspection will be announced at least five working days in advance.
6. If a student is unable to attend the inspection due to demonstrable circumstances beyond his or her control a separate inspection can be arranged upon his or her request, preferably within the period of time referred to in paragraph 1 of the present article.
7. In all events, inspection will take place no later than five working days before the resit of the examination in question is administered.
8. The provision in paragraph 7 does not apply to units of study in the fourth period with both the examination and the resit in the same period, where this minimum period is two working days.
9. If there is an assessment method that cannot be inspected and reviewed in accordance with the procedure described in paragraph 1, the course manual will describe how it can be inspected in that instance.

Article 4.11 Validity term of examinations

1. The validity term of any examination that has been passed is indefinite, unless provided otherwise in the programme specific part of these regulations, with due observance of the stipulations on this matter laid down in the Act.
2. In case of a restricted validity term, the Examination Board, in special circumstances and in individual cases, may extend the validity term. In the event a student has been granted financial support under the Profiling Fund, as referred to in the Act, because of an impairment or chronic illness, the Examination Board extends the period, at any time, at least by the number of months that the financial support has been granted by the Executive Board.
3. The student is notified, at least 16 weeks prior, of the expiry of the validity term applicable for an examination that was passed. This notification, by or on behalf of the dean, states that the relevant knowledge, understanding and/or skills are outdated and explains the reasons why.
4. The provisions in paragraph 1 of the present article do not apply for modular examinations. The validity term of modular examinations is always limited to the end of the relevant unit of study, unless this has been otherwise specified in the course manual of the relevant unit of study.

Article 4.12 Determination of final Master's examination results

1. When students have completed all examinations successfully, they must apply for the final Master's examination themselves.
2. The Examination Board will determine the results of the examination as soon as the student has passed the examinations forming part of the units of study of the programme in question and has submitted proof thereof. An examination shall be dated on the date of the last successfully passed interim examination, as long as the Master's examination is requested within four weeks after the last interim examination at the latest. If four weeks or more have passed, the examination date will be the day of the month on which the Master's examination was requested.
3. Prior to determining the results of the final Master's examination, the Examination Board itself may conduct an inquiry into the student's knowledge with respect to one or more units of study or aspects of the degree programme. If this is the case, this will be elaborated upon in the programme-specific part of these regulations.

Paragraph 5 Study progress, student counselling and course advice

Article 5.1 Study progress and student counselling

1. The dean is responsible for the registration of the study results in such a way that every student can obtain an updated overview of the results registered in the system OSIRIS at that moment.
2. The dean is responsible for providing adequate student counselling.

Paragraph 6 Teaching evaluation

Article 6.1 Teaching evaluation method

With due observance of the quality assurance system of the university, as laid down in the Handbook Quality Assurance System Degree Programmes Radboud University (Handboek Kwaliteitszorg Onderwijs Radboud Universiteit), the dean sees to it that the units of study taught in the programmes will be systematically evaluated.

Paragraph 7 Miscellaneous stipulations

Article 7.1 Code of conduct

The faculty has instituted a Code of conduct that both students and employees are expected to follow. This Code of conduct is attached in Appendix 3 of these regulations.

Article 7.2 Scientific integrity

Regarding research and education within the faculty, regulations about scientific integrity are in place as elaborated by the Universities of the Netherlands (UN).

Part 3 Programme Specific Regulations

Paragraph 8 Access to the degree programme and education

Article 8.1 Registration and admission

1. The annual programme entry date is September 1. The specialisation Gezondheidspsychologie additionally has an entry date February 1.
2. The Master's programme has three Specialisations:
 - Work, Organisation and Health (WOH)
 - Behaviour Change (BC)
 - Gezondheidszorgpsychologie(GZP)
3. Admission to both Specialisations Work, Organisation and Health as well as the Specialisation Behaviour Change is granted to:

Anyone who has successfully passed the Bachelor's or Master's examination Psychology (BSc or MSc) at a Dutch university or a foreign research university. The degree programme must have included the following units of study: Statistics and Data Analysis (minimum 15 EC), Methods of psychological research (minimum 20 EC), Social Psychology and Work/ Organisational/ Occupational Psychology (minimum 30 EC) and the student who has conducted at least one empirical research project with substantial quantitative and statistical analyses which resulted in an individually written report in APA-style.

4. Admission to the Specialisation Gezondheidszorgpsychologie is granted to anyone who has successfully passed the Bachelor's or Master's examination Psychology or the Bachelor's examination Medical Sciences with a Specialisation in Mental Health Care at a Dutch or Flemish university and meets the admission requirements as described in 8.2.
5. Also admissible to the programme is anyone who, in the opinion of the admissions committee, has demonstrated sufficient suitability for participation in the degree programme.

Article 8.2 Selection requirements

Does not apply for this programme.

Article 8.3 Language requirements

1. To be admissible to the specialisations Work, Organisation and Health and Behaviour Change, a prospective student should be sufficiently proficient in English, to be proven by one of the following examinations:
 1. a bachelor diploma from a Dutch research university;
 2. a bachelor diploma from a country with English as a first language (see the Registration Regulations for a specification of countries);
 3. TOEFL iBT: ≥ 90 & subscores ≥ 22 ;
 4. IELTS Academic: $\geq 6,5$ overall. Subscores $\geq 6,0$, writing subscore $\geq 6,5$;
 5. Cambridge C1 Advanced: Overall minimum score 176, minimum component score 169, minimum writing component score: 176;
 6. C2 Proficiency: Overall minimum score 180, minimum component score 169, minimum writing component score: 176

Article 8.4 Entry requirements

Contrary to the provisions in the general section of these regulations, participation in the education and interim examinations of the education modules listed below is not possible until the following admission requirements have been met:

1. For the Specialisation Work, Organisation and Health – (WOH), 24 EC of the compulsory course-specific portion must have been passed before the graduation project can be started. The compulsory course-specific education of the

Specialisation WOH comprises:

- a. the course Introduction to WOH part A & B (PSMWOH10A & PSMWOH10B);
 - b. two out of three in-depth courses; Personnel Psychology (PSMWOH11), Work, Health and Performance (PSMWOH12), Organisation Development and Behavioural Change (PSMWOH13) and
 - c. two out of three practical courses; Human Resource Management (PSMWOH14), Work, Sport and Health (PSMWOH15), Organisational Change and Consultancy (PSMWOH16).
2. For the Specialisation Behaviour Change (BC), Psychology of Behaviour Change (PSMBC10), DRIVE I (PSMBC12) and II (PSMBC13), and Models of Behaviour Change (PSMBC15) must be successfully completed before beginning a graduation project. In order to successfully complete DRIVE II (PSMBC13), DRIVE I (PSMBC12) must be passed.

For the Specialisation Gezondheidszorgpsychologie (GZP), the course-specific part (total 30 EC) must have been completed before the internship can be started.

Paragraph 9 Programme structure and design

Article 9.1 Specific learning outcomes

1. For the Master's degree programme in Psychology the following learning outcomes have been established.
 - a. Acquiring knowledge and understanding

The graduate has both essential and up-to-date knowledge and advanced understanding in the field of the psychology in the chosen Master's Specialisation (as described in Article 9.4) and is capable of carrying out scientific research in this area, independently and with others. To this end, the graduate has a thorough knowledge of and insight into:

- the relevant scientific literature and their prevailing, "evidence-based" practical applications;
- the relevant general and specialist (research) methods;
- the organisation of the fields of psychology linked to the Specialisation;
- current issues within the field.

b. Application of knowledge and understanding

The graduate is able to carry out scientific research in the area of the chosen Master's Specialisation, independently and with others, and is able to integrate and apply knowledge in new situations. Knowledge and understanding and their application are connected through the scientist-practitioner model. This implies that the graduate:

- is capable of basing their own professional actions on current, scientific knowledge;
- is able to frame and analyse complex problems and to use or, if possible, develop and implement relevant, "evidence-based" interventions;
- possesses the psychological professional skills necessary for the specific work field.

c. Forming an opinion

The graduate, on the basis of professional and scientific knowledge, is capable of forming balanced judgements, taking into account the social and ethical responsibilities connected to the application of their own knowledge and judgements. To this end, the graduate possesses:

- a critical scientific attitude;
- the ability to observe and evaluate the consequences of his/her own actions;
- the ability to understand shortcomings in their own actions and to remain open to feedback about these actions;
- insight into the value and relativity of the results of scientific research and interventions.

d. Communication

The Master's graduate has good communication skills. The graduate has, in particular:

- conversational and communication skills relevant to the work field;
- the skill to communicate professionally with both peers in their field and non-peers;

- skill in carefully crafting reports.

e. Learning skills

The Master's graduate is able to continually learn new professional knowledge and skills.

2. A further elaboration of clause 1 for each Master's Specialisation is found in Appendix 4 of these regulations.

Article 9.2 Study load of the programme

The degree programme has a study load of 60 EC. The programme's study load is determined by the Executive Board, in a separate decision.

Article 9.3 Structure of the programme

All degree programmes are offered exclusively as full-time programmes. The programme's form is determined by the Executive Board, in a separate decision.

Article 9.4 Language of instruction

1. The Specialisation Gezondheidszorgpsychologie is taught in Dutch. The Specialisations Work, Organisation and Health and Behaviour Change are taught in English.
2. Dutch students in the English-language Specialisations are given the opportunity to take certain exams in Dutch, only where it concerns written individual exams.
3. Contrary to the provisions in clause 1 and 2, the units of study may partially or fully be taught in English and examinations may be administered in English.

Article 9.5 Composition of the programme of the first year

1. The Master's Specialisation Work, Organisation and Health includes the following units of study (with the relevant semester stated) and the study load in EC, which can be started on 1 September:

Cursuscode	Cursustitel	EC	Semester

MPSGP13C	Klachtgerichte interventies
MPSGP13D	Neuropsychologische revalidatie
MPSGP13F	Interventies bij oudere volwassenen	6
MPSGP80	Klinische stage	20	2
MPSGP90	Masterthese	10	2

4. A description of the units of study listed in clauses 1, 2, and 3 including teaching methods, examination methods, a (summary of) the learning objectives, and contact hours is included in the degree programme study guide.
5. The final project as described in Article 3.4.3 consists of both the Master's thesis (MPSGP90) and the clinical internship (MPSGP80).

Part 4 Transitional and final provisions

Paragraph 10 Transitional provisions

Article 10.1 Transitional provisions for the programme

Does not apply for this programme in 2024-2025.

Paragraph 11 Final provisions

Article 11.1 Safety net scheme and hardship clause

1. The dean will make decisions in individual cases not covered or insufficiently covered by these regulations.
2. In individual cases of extreme unfairness, the Examination Board or the dean is authorised to make an exception to the provisions of these regulations in favour of a student.

Article 11.2 Adoption, co-participation and amendments

1. Notwithstanding the provisions in article 7 of the Structure Regulations of Radboud University, these regulations are drawn up or amended by the dean after receiving advice from the programme committee and after having obtained the approval of the faculties' general assembly (Facultaire Gezamenlijke Vergadering, FGV).
2. In special cases, an amendment made to these regulations can take effect in the present academic year, only if this does not disproportionately compromise the interests of the students.

Article 11.3 Publication

1. The dean will be responsible for suitable publication of these regulations and of possible amendments to these.
2. Any interested party may consult the EER on the faculty's website.

Article 11.4 Coming into effect

These regulations will come into effect on 2 September 2024.

Any Education and Examination Regulations laid down previously for the degree programme will cease to apply from that date onwards.

As established by the dean on 13 June 2024.

Appendix 1

Regulations on Fraud Radboud University

Paragraph 1 Introductory provisions

Article 1 Purpose and scope of these regulations

To prevent fraud during interim examinations and bachelor/master examinations as referred to in article 7.12b WHW, relating to the education and examination in the degree programme mentioned in article 1.1 of this EER, the dean of the faculty of Social Sciences of Radboud University (hereinafter: RU), adopts the following regulations.

Article 2 Definitions

The terms that are used in these regulations - in so far as these terms are also used in the Higher Education and Research Act (Wet op het Hoger onderwijs en Wetenschappelijk onderzoek, hereinafter: WHW) - have the same meaning that is given to these terms in the WHW or the EER.

Paragraph 2 Definition fraud, procedure and sanctions

Article 3 Definition of fraud

1. At RU, fraud is understood to mean any act or omission by a student which, in its nature, is intended to have as an effect that proper assessment of the knowledge, understanding and skills of that student or another student, is made fully or partially impossible.
2. Fraud is in any case understood to mean:
 - a. fraud when taking written interim examinations, including
 - having materials available which are not permitted under the House Rules Examinations Rooms RU Regulations (Regeling Huisregels Tentamenruimten RU);
 - copying or exchanging information;
 - passing oneself off as someone else, or being represented by someone else during interim examinations;
 - b. fraud when producing theses and other papers, including
 - plagiarism in the sense of using or copying someone else's texts, data or ideas without complete and correct source references, plagiarism in the sense of copying the work of another student and presenting this as one's own work and other specifically academic forms of plagiarism; insofar as it leads to the description in paragraph 1.
 - fabricating (making up) and/or falsifying (distorting) research data;
 - submitting a thesis or another paper that was written by someone else.
 - c. other fraud in the context of interim examinations or examinations, including
 - taking possession of assignments, answer keys and the like, prior to the time the interim examination or examination is to take place;

- changing answers to assignments in an interim examination or examination after it has been handed in for assessment;
 - providing incorrect information when applying for an exemption, extension of validity period, and the like, of an interim examination or an examination.
3. An attempt to commit fraud will also be seen as fraud for the purpose of these regulations.

Article 4 Procedure for establishing fraud

1. When fraud is suspected, the examination board or the examiner immediately informs the student of this suspicion. If the suspicion of fraud is established when the interim examination or the examination is administered, the examination board or the examiner will allow the student to complete the interim examination or the examination.
2. The examination board or the examiner may order the student to make any material related to the suspicion of fraud available to them.
3. For the purposes of the provisions in paragraphs 1 and 2 of the present article, examiner is also understood to mean the invigilator or any other RU member of staff.
4. The examination board or the examiner drafts a report of the suspicion of fraud. If the examiner drafts the report, he will send this report to the examination board without delay.
5. The examination board makes the report referred to in article 5 available to the student without delay and then starts an investigation into the matter. The examination board provides the student with the opportunity to respond to the report in writing. The examination board hears both the examiner and the student.
6. Within four weeks following the date the report was made available to the student, the board of examiners decides whether fraud was actually committed. The examination board informs both the student and the examiner of their decision in writing. The four-week period may be extended by two weeks.

Article 5 Remedial action

If the examination board has established fraud:

- a. the examination board declares the relevant interim examination or examination invalid, and
- b. the examination board includes a statement in the student's student file that it has established fraud and, if applicable, which sanctions have been imposed.

Article 6 Sanctions

1. If the examination board has established fraud has been committed, the board may:
 - a. determine that the student may not sit one or more interim examinations or examinations during a period to be set by the examination board, which period will be a maximum of one year;
 - b. determine that no distinction will be awarded on the degree certificate;
 - c. make a recommendation to the Dean of the Honours Academy that the student should not be admitted to the honours programme of the university or the faculty or recommend that the student's participation in the honours programme of the university or the faculty should be ended.

2. If the examination board has established that serious fraud has been committed, the board may also
 - a. make a recommendation to the executive board that the student's registration for a programme should be terminated with definitive effect.
3. After the examination board has established that serious fraud has been committed, the executive board - upon examination boards' recommendation - may terminate the student's registration for a programme with definitive effect.
4. The sanctions as referred to in this article are imposed as from the day following the date the student is notified of the decision that sanctions are imposed.

Paragraph 3 Transitional provisions

Does not apply.

Paragraph 4 Final provisions

Article 7 Decisions and legal protection

1. Decisions pursuant to these regulations may be sent to the student digitally and/or by email.
2. The student can appeal against any decision made under these regulations, within six weeks following the date on the relevant decision, by lodging a notice of appeal at the Examinations Appeals Board (College voor Beroep van de Examens [CBE]).

Article 8 Adoption, medezeggenschap and amendment

1. These regulations are adopted by dean.
2. In so far as the content of these regulations relates to the duties and powers of the degree programme's examination board, the content must also be confirmed by that examination board.

Article 9 Effect

These regulations take effect on 1 September 2019. These regulations will then replace any previous regulations.

Article 10 Publication

1. The dean ensures the appropriate publication and possible amendments of these regulations.
2. For the purpose of appropriate and clear provision of information to students and prospect students, the dean includes these regulations, every year, as an appendix to the Education and Examination Regulations (Onderwijs- en Examenregeling, OER) and as an appendix to the Rules and Guidelines (Regels en Richtlijnen, RR) of the programme.

Appendix 2

Regulations on Examination Rooms Radboud University

Paragraph 1 Introductory provisions

Article 1 Purpose and scope of the regulations

For the proper course of events during interim examinations and bachelor/master examinations relating to the education and examination of the degree programme mentioned in article 1.1 of this EER that are administered in examination rooms at the Radboud University (hereinafter: RU), the dean of the faculty of Social Sciences of the RU adopts the following regulations.

Article 2 Definitions

The terms that are used in these regulations - in so far as these terms are also used in the Higher Education and Research Act (Wet op het Hoger onderwijs en Wetenschappelijk onderzoek, hereinafter: the Act) or the Education and Examination Regulations of the degree programme (hereinafter: the EER) - have the same meaning that is given to these terms in the Act and the EER.

Article 3 Examiners and invigilators

For the administration of examinations, the examination board of the degree programme as mentioned in article 1 (above) has appointed one or more examiners. The examiners appointed as referred to in paragraph 1 are responsible for the supervision and execution of the provisions in these regulations. On behalf of the examiner(s) appointed, one or more invigilators may be present in the examination rooms, assigned by or on behalf of the executive board. When invigilators have been assigned, at least one appointed examiner is also present in the examination room or, as appropriate, available on call.

Article 4 Instructions by the executive board

1. These regulations include instructions in the sense of article 7.57h of the Act. In view of the executive board's mandating decision dated 15 May 2019, the dean is authorised to adopt these instructions on behalf of the executive board. The student is obliged to comply with the instructions laid down in these regulations.
2. A student who fails to comply with any instructions under these regulations may be denied access to the examination room by or on behalf of the examiner. Non-compliance with the instructions may also lead to a suspicion of fraud in the sense of the Regulations on Fraud (Regeling Fraude).

Article 5 Guidelines for examiners

These regulations include instructions in the sense of Article 7.12b of the Act. The examiner is obliged to comply with the instructions laid down in these regulations.

Article 6 Instructions by examiners for students

1. The examiner may give instructions, in the context of the instructions described in these regulations, to a student in the RU examination room if a concrete situation should be cause for this. The student is obliged to comply with these instructions.
2. The student who fails to comply with the instructions referred to in paragraph 1 may be denied access to the examination room by or on behalf of the examiner. Non-compliance with the instructions may also lead to a suspicion of fraud in the sense of the Regulations on Fraud (Regeling Fraude).

Paragraph 2 House Rules

Article 7 Admission to the examination room and leaving it

1. With respect to entering and leaving the examination rooms, the following applies:
 - a. the examination room is accessible for the student at least 15 minutes before the examination starts;
 - b. except in the circumstances described in paragraphs c and d of the present article, the student is no longer admitted into the examination room after the examination has started;
 - c. the student who arrives too late at the examination room is given the opportunity, 15 minutes following the start of the examination, to be as yet admitted into the examination room;
 - d. the student is permitted to use the toilet during the examination;
 - e. the student is not allowed to leave the examination room within the first 30 minutes following the start of the examination.
2. In special circumstances the examiner may act contrary to the provisions in paragraph 1. If the provisions in paragraph 1 are departed from, the student will be informed of this in due time.

Article 8 Student ID

1. In the examination room the student must be able to furnish proof of identity, at any time, by producing a valid identity document.
2. The student who cannot furnish proof of identity as laid down in the first paragraph of the present article will not be admitted into the examination room or can as yet be denied access to that room.

Article 9 Start and duration of the examination

The examiner starts the examination at the time scheduled. If the examination starts at a later moment in time because of relevant circumstances, the examiner ensures that the scheduled duration of the examination can be fully used by the student.

Article 10 Materials permitted in examinations

1. When taking the interim examination, the student is not allowed to have materials available that serve or could serve as auxiliary materials for the examination paper, unless the use of that material has been explicitly permitted by the examiner before the start of the examination.

2. Materials for the purpose of these regulations include, amongst other things: textbooks and dictionaries, notes and lecture notes, and watches, laptops, tablets, telephones and other smart device's and/or wearables.

Article 11 Handing in examination papers

1. When the examination ends, the student is obliged to hand in the examination paper.
2. The student may also be required to hand in other examination materials, such as examination question papers and/or note paper used during the examination.

Article 12 Peace and order, furniture and fixtures in the examination room

1. Coats, satchels, bags, etc. must be put away in compliance with the examiner's instructions.
2. In order to prevent interference with the WIFI signal, any devices that are present in the examination room, such as watches, laptops, tablets, telephones, and any other devices or smart devices and/or wearables, must be switched off in compliance with the examiner's instructions.
3. Without prejudice to the provisions in the previous paragraphs, the examiner ensures, both during and after completion of the examination, that any measures are taken as required for adequate surveillance and for maintaining the necessary peace and order in the examination room.
4. Whenever an examination is administered, the examination room has at least one clock which is clearly visible for each student.
5. Eating and drinking is allowed during the examination, unless this should prevent appropriate surveillance and/or maintaining the necessary peace and order.

Paragraph 3 Transitional provisions

Does not apply.

Paragraph 4 Final provisions

Article 13 Departure from rules and house rules

In special circumstances the examiner may depart from the provisions in these regulations.

Article 14 Adoption and amendment

1. These regulations are adopted and amended by the dean.
2. In so far as the content of these regulations relates to the duties and powers of the programme's examination board, the content must also be confirmed by that examination board.

Article 15 Effect

These regulations take effect on 1 September 2019. These regulations then replace any previous regulations.

Article 16 Publication

1. The dean ensures the appropriate publication and any amendments of these regulations.
2. For the purpose of appropriate and clear provision of information to students and prospective students, the dean includes these regulations, every year, as an appendix to the Education and Examination Regulations (Onderwijs- en Examenregeling (OER). The examination board includes these regulations accordingly as an appendix to the Rules and Guidelines (Regels en Richtlijnen (RR)) of the programme that are laid down by that board.

Thus, adopted by the dean on June 26, 2019 and ratified by the examination board.

APPENDIX 3

Faculty of Social Sciences code of conduct

The Faculty of Social Sciences seeks to offer an inspiring learning and working environment where employees and students work and study with commitment and joy, aiming for scientific development, knowledge, insight and skill. To facilitate this, the faculty has adopted a number of rules governing conduct within the faculty. These rules of conduct are aimed at both students and staff, in addition to the Radboud University Code of Conduct (the university wide conduct applies to staff, but it is good for students to be aware of this code, too). It is our joint responsibility to ensure a pleasant and safe learning and working environment.

The faculty seeks to provide an atmosphere characterised by:

- mutual respect
- personal development;
- openness
- trust;
- cooperation; and
- responsibility.

This implies that

- we treat others with respect, without being offensive or hurtful, regardless of the role or function someone fulfills in the organization. We are an inclusive organization and do not tolerate discrimination;
- we are aware of our respective positions within the organization and the power disparities that come with that. We are extra mindful of safeguarding a socially safe environment in the case of dependencies between functions;
- respecting one another goes for all forms of all contact that occurs between staff, between staff and students and among students, and for all forms of communication, whether in real life or in digital spaces, verbal and written communication such as e-mail, Brightspace, social media such as Whatsapp, and course evaluations;
- we make sure to familiarise themselves with and act according to the rules in the various regulations (e.g. EER, student charter, regulation on research integrity) as well as agreements such as those made with respect to attendance, deadlines, review periods, completing assignments;
- we stick to the rules and agreements once made;
- students and staff are jointly responsible for the successful functioning of the educational process and both students and staff can and may appeal to each other's responsibility;
- we assume good intentions of each other;
- we do not adhere to prejudicial judgements;
- we respect each other's property and take good care of spaces and materials used;
- we try as best we can to look out for one another and check in with each other in case we feel that is necessary;
- students are aware that course material is protected by copyright and may not simply be copied or shared;
- we are aware that we all have a role and a responsibility to create a pleasant and safe learning and working environment in which we take care of one another.

In case you notice inappropriate behaviour, directed at yourself or towards others, you can contact a confidential advisor, your supervisor, a colleague, your HR advisor or the Ombudsofficer. More information can be found on the RU website.

APPENDIX 4 LEARNING OUTCOMES FOR EACH MASTER'S SPECIALISATION

Specialisation Gezondheidszorgpsychologie

The aim of this Master's Specialisation is to train psychologists who are broadly employable in mental and somatic healthcare and who possesses knowledge of the phenomenology of disorders in behaviour and experience, and an understanding of the behavioural and cognitive-neuroscientific background of these disorders in children, young people and (older) adults. The following are the learning outcomes of this Master's Specialisation:

1. Acquiring knowledge and understanding

The Master's graduate possesses essential knowledge of and insight into the professional field of the psychologist working in health care. To this end, the graduate possesses:

- 1.1 sufficient knowledge of the phenomenology of disorders in behaviour and experience, and of cognitive neuroscience and behavioural science with regard to the origin, persistence and impact of these disorders;
- 1.2 good insight into the life cycle perspective: knowledge and insight into the development and aging of the individual and of the individual in social contexts; knowledge and insight into the development and aging of the brain;
- 1.3 good understanding of the principles that serve as the foundation for change as a result of intervention methods. Understanding of social (family, social class, ethnic group) and psychological sustaining factors; how to influence pathological behaviour and contribute to this through training, insight and therapeutic contact;
- 1.4 good understanding of intervention-effect research, an overview of research findings and an overview of evidence-based psychological treatments;
- 1.5 thorough knowledge of diagnostic tools for cognitive diagnostics, personality diagnostics, and diagnosis of mental symptoms and syndromes; the ability to select, reduce, and interpret these. Knowledge of the usage conditions of these types of diagnostic tests for different client groups;
- 1.6 thorough knowledge of the organisation of (mental) healthcare and knowledge of common legal and ethical questions that arise in healthcare;
- 1.7 thorough knowledge of research methods specific to client-bound research.

2. Application of knowledge and understanding

The Master's graduate is able to integrate and apply the different knowledge components in new situations. To this end, the Master's graduate has the following skills:

- 1.1 the ability to stay up to date on current research developments in the field of healthcare psychology, and the skill to carry out and report on independent research in this area;
 - 1.2 the skill to carry out anamnestic interviews with clients/patients in a professional manner, to select and apply the correct diagnostic tools and to interpret and report on the data from anamnestic and diagnostic tools.
 - 1.3 basic skill in applying the widely used "evidence-based" psychological interventions in perception and behavioural disorders.
2. Forming judgements

1. With respect to diagnosis, advice and treatment, The Master's graduate is able to form balanced judgements on the problems of clients, in accordance with professional and scientific expertise and with social and ethical values. This means that the Master's graduate:
 - 2.1 has the ability to predict the consequences of his/her own clinical actions and to weigh these consequences in accordance with the standards and values in Dutch society;
 - 2.2 is able to assume responsibility for his/her own clinical actions, while also being aware of the limits of diagnostic and treatment options;
 - 2.3 possesses insight into shortcomings in his/her own actions and openness to feedback during peer reviews and supervision;
 - 2.4 possesses insight into the value and relativity of the results of scientific research.

4. Communication

The Master's graduate has good social communication skills, namely:

- 1.1 skill in therapeutic conversation, consultation, professional consultation with client stakeholders and with colleagues and other care providers;
- 1.2 skill in writing reports;
- 1.3 ability to justify one's own clinical actions and professionally communicate with various individuals, groups and media.

5. Learning skills

The Master's graduate is willing and able to continually learn new professional knowledge and skills and is open to training, retraining and self-study. The Master's graduate is aware of the importance of science-based knowledge and "evidence-based" work.

Specialisation Work, Organisation and Health

The purpose of the Master's Specialisation is to train psychologists who possess academic knowledge and insight in the field of work and health psychology, staff psychology, and organisational psychology and who possess the research and professional skills necessary for the (research) practice of work, organisation, and health (WOH). The following are the learning outcomes of this Master's Specialisation:

Acquiring knowledge and understanding

The WOH Master's graduate possesses relevant and up-to-date knowledge and advanced understanding of the psychology of work, organisation, and health. This refers to knowledge and insight regarding:

the three sub-domains of work and health psychology, personnel psychology, and organisational psychology as well as the relationships between these sub-domains;

social and current developments in the field of WOH;

the mutual relationships between work (behaviour), organisation, health, performance and physical activity, and the psychosocial processes that play a role in these;

personnel psychology, in particular the themes of recruitment, selection, personnel development, and strategic issues within Human Resource Management;

organisational development and behavioural change in the context of work and organisations; work and person-specific interventions to prevent certain situations, such as psychosocial overload, and to encourage recovery, physical activity, health, motivation, and performance; research and intervention methods that are relevant for the three areas of WOH psychology; “evidence-based” applications of WOH knowledge in the practical field of WOH.

Application of knowledge and understanding

The WOH Master’s graduate is capable of integrating different knowledge components, as mentioned under 1, and apply them in new, complex practical situations. Knowledge and understanding how to apply this knowledge are connected through the scientist-practitioner model. The Master’s graduate is able to:

- apply WOH knowledge and professional skills in a scientifically sound and effective way to issues/problems from the practical field of WOH;
- set up and conduct scientifically sound research in the field of WOH;
- design effective evidence-based interventions for questions from the field of WOH practice, taking into account the crucial process factors;
- base their own professional actions on current scientific knowledge and test this against criteria for effectiveness, efficiency, and ethics;
- build and maintain effective relationships with stakeholders in research and practice.

Forming judgements

The WOH Master’s graduate is able to, on the basis of professional and scientific knowledge, form balanced judgements on WOH issues, taking into account the social and ethical considerations and responsibilities. The Master’s graduate is able to:

- see the consequences of their own professional actions from the perspective of the standards and values in Dutch and international society as well as the standards that apply within the WOH professional domain, including professional/trade associations.
- see the effectiveness of their own professional actions from the perspective of scientific quality and interests as well as practical constraints;
- critically reflect upon the quality of scientific research, research results, and interventions, while also assessing and considering the value, boundaries, and possibilities in complex practical situations.

Communication

The WOH Master’s graduate has good social communication skills, namely:

- the social and communication skills necessary to act professionally and effectively in relation to employers, clients and colleagues;
- the skill to submit carefully crafted, written and oral reports;
- the ability to justify his/her own professional actions and professionally communicate this.

Learning skills

The WOH Master’s graduate is able to continually learn new professional knowledge and skills. The Master’s graduate possesses:

the skill to continually update their knowledge in the field of WOH and to independently acquire new knowledge in this domain;

the ability to critically reflect on their own professional actions and on the consequences of these in order to make informed choices for their own professional development;

an understanding of the need to remain abreast of recent developments in WOH research.

Specialisation Behaviour Change

The Master's Specialisation Behaviour Change (BC) aims to train students to become practice oriented behavioural researchers focussed on changing behaviour. To achieve this goal, students acquire knowledge, skills and attitudes needed to carry out research and to implement interventions as a starting professional. The following are the learning outcomes of this Master's Specialisation:

1. Acquiring knowledge and understanding

The Master's graduate in BC possesses essential, up-to-date and advanced knowledge and understanding of the psychology of behavioural change. To this end, the graduate possesses:

- 1.1 fundamental scientific knowledge about regulating and influencing behaviour as well as an understanding of which psychological processes can and cannot be influenced;
- 1.2 insight into the possible translation of scientific research into practical interventions and their limitations;
- 1.3 knowledge of existing and commonly used interventions in the field of behavioural change;
- 1.4 a thorough knowledge of research methods that are applicable in practice in regard to psychological effect research.

2. Application of knowledge and understanding

The BC Master's graduate is able to apply their knowledge in new situations or cases

Knowledge, insight, and the application of these are connected through the scientist-practitioner model.

The Master's graduate is capable of:

- 2.1 translating scientific knowledge and findings for use in practical situations and specific new cases or themes; addressing systematic and independent issues regarding behaviour. That means putting the situation into perspective, describing the scientific context, developing interventions, testing, and clearly reporting the relevant conclusions and primary matters;
- 2.3 planning a research cycle regarding a specific case in a project-based manner and directing it effectively and efficiently in practice.

3. Forming judgements

The Master's graduate BC is able to, on the basis of professional and scientific knowledge, form balanced judgements on issues concerning behaviour and how to influence this behaviour. This implies that the Master's graduate:

- 3.1 can weigh and assess the balance between scientific quality and interests as well as practical constraints;
- 3.2 can predict the consequences of his/her own professional actions and can assess these in the light of their social and ethical responsibilities;
- 3.3 possesses insight into the value and relativity of the results of scientific research.

4. Communication

The BC Master's graduate possesses good social and communication skills, namely:

- 4.1 the skill to communicate professionally with both peers and clients;
- 4.2 the skill to prepare written and oral reports;
- 4.3 the ability to justify his/her own professional actions.

5. Learning skills

The Master's graduate BC is able to continually learn new professional knowledge and skills. The Master's graduate:

- 5.1 understands the importance of scientific knowledge and "evidence-based" working in professional practice;
- 5.2 has the ability to critically reflect on his/her own actions and can thus make informed choices regarding his/her professional development.
- 5.3 has the ability to stay informed of the latest knowledge in BC and to acquire new knowledge in this field.
